Once upon a time an exposition,
Came to Spokane without a requisition.
The townsmen voted no, the businessmen yes,
So now we're putting money into their treasure chest.

Round the world invitations were sent,
And signs were put up that said pavilions for rent.
Men made plans to spruce up the town,
Which included paving roads, and putting trees down.

Longhairs, shorthairs, conservatives, freaks,
They'll all be here for the next 24 weeks.
Now that my little poem is done,
You better go, cause it might be fun.

Hee Hey!
Its been nice knowing you this year. Hope you have fun picking on yr at basketball games and wrestling matches too. Probably won't see you no more, how can one person be so lucky?
I know I'll remember you as a good friend in my high school years.
Good luck in the years to follow.
God bless,

Spirit And Enthusiasm Move All At

Vim! Vigor! Vitality!

This was the theme for the cheerleaders and yelldukes as they urged good sportsmanship and school spirit throughout the year.

"Spirit" reached very high levels as students and faculty found their teams fighting with the traditional "Purple Pride" and determination known to Rogers.

An all-school car caravan, enthusiastic Pirette-Pep Club serpentines and cons, held every other week to promote spirit, were some of the highlights of the year.

Rogers' cheerleader Leanne Olmstead is an example of spirit, beauty, and poise.

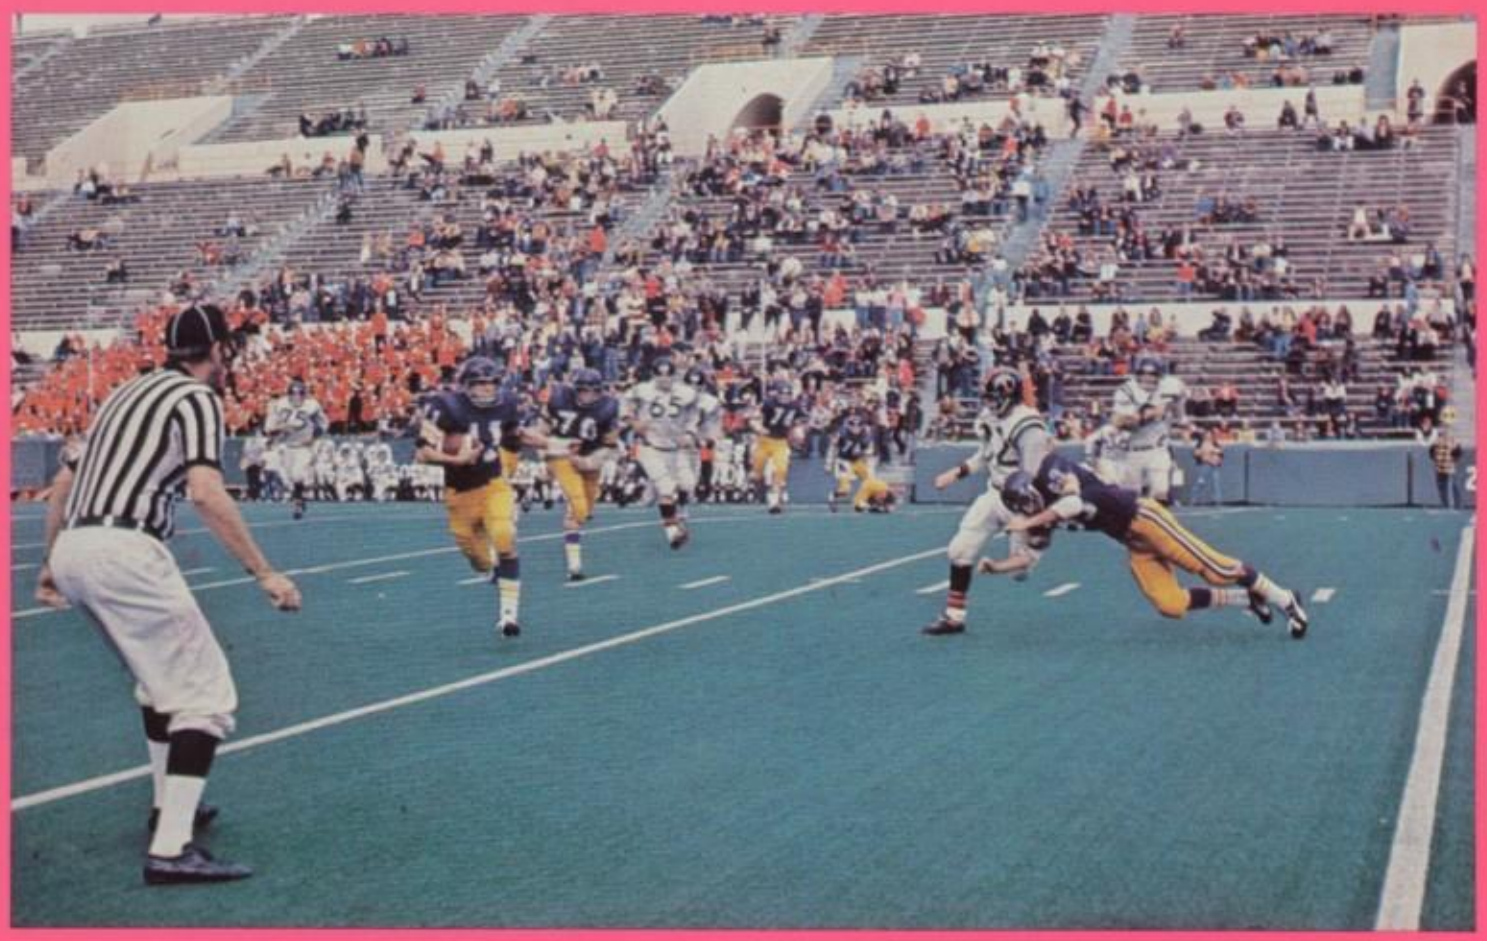
Yelldukes Gerald Zinkgraf and Eugene Harvey watch as Tracy Olsen hangs tough.



Rogers' Pirates show the opposing team their "hard hitting" tactics.

Many dedicated fans go all out to show their support for Rogers. Pirettes have gotten up as early as three o'clock in the morning to decorate the football players houses to give them that extra boost. Many students have come to the football games no matter what the weather to support their team to victory.

Some students go to great lengths to prove they are head-over-heals about Rogers.

Rooting Rogers' Rowdies Romp Again

Cheerleaders, Yelldukes, and Pirettes support the football team as they run on the field to victory.

Is it a hurricane—a tornado—a catastrophe? No! It is the peppy Pirettes decorating houses again.

The 1973-74 school year opened with a burst of activity.

Pictured here are some of the "happenings" that the students took part in.

After a brief but vigorous campaign and primary, final elections for class officers were held in the fall.

Sponsored by the ASB, the Sadie Hawkins Dance showed exceptional creative ideas and costumes. One found everything from Oriental kimonos to typical coveralls and Daisy Mae outfits of "Dog Patch Days."

The fall ASB officers displayed much enthusiasm and organization in putting on such things as the leadership camp at Fan Lake, ASB meetings, and the Free Fare convocation.

Purple Pride Shines Through

Teachers have gone all out this year to show that Purple Pride is not just a dreamed up phrase but a reality. They can be seen cheering on the stage at cons, getting not only the students wound up but other teachers as well. You can spot them on game days wearing the purple and gold, showing us that if they are that proud of John Rogers, then we must have Some school!

Teachers go all out to show the students their fantastic cheerleading abilities.

Students and faculty are seen at one of the many meetings planned to discuss the problems at Rogers. These meetings helped to bring a warmth and unitv between students and faculty.

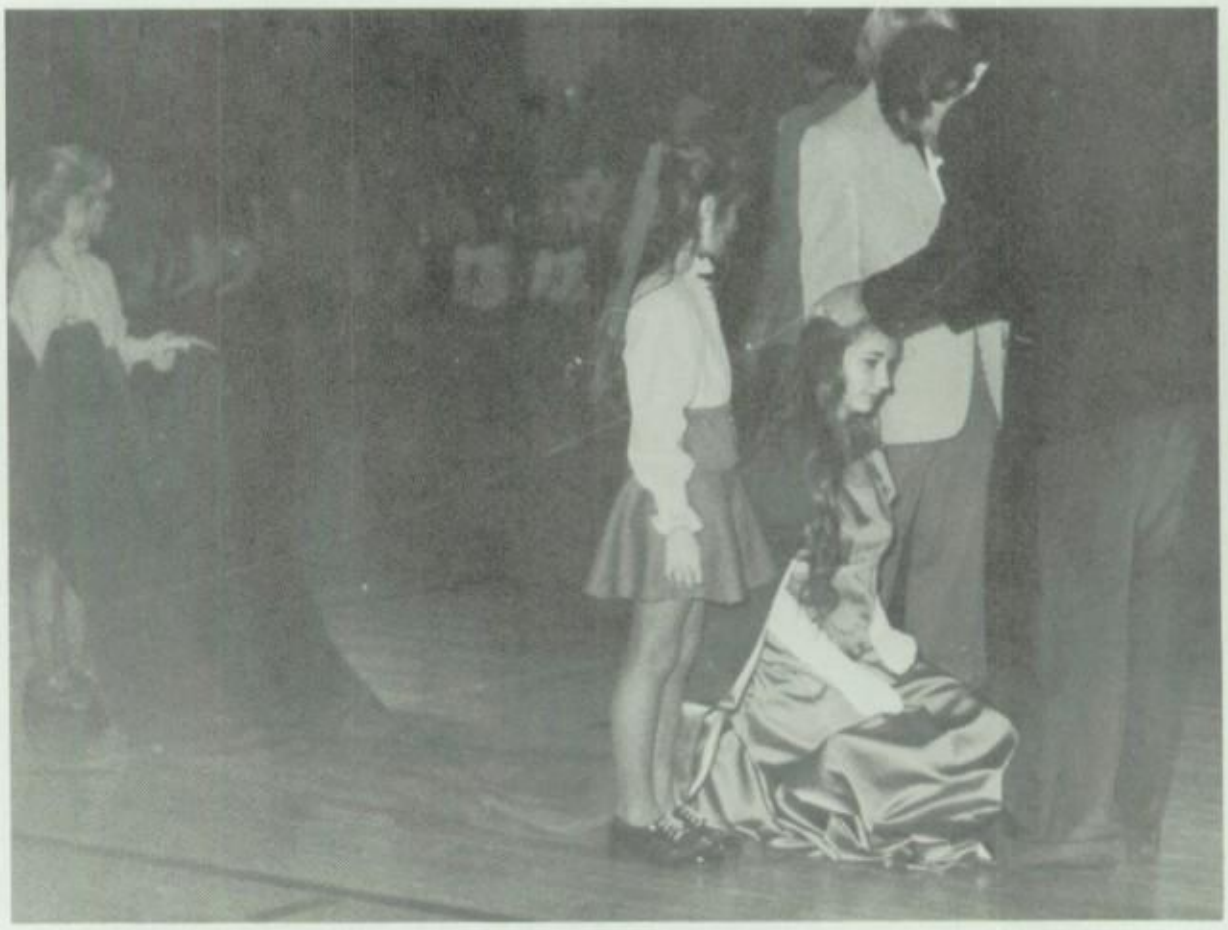
Royalty Reigns Over Homecoming

On November 9, the end of Homecoming week, a double convocation was held to honor the royalty Queen Dalene Fuher and her court: Senior Princess Sue Hall, Junior Princess Stephanie Drewniak, and Sophomore Princess Kathy Vowels were presented with gifts of corsages and candy. Friends and family of the girls were invited as special guests.

"Lasting Dreams" was the theme for the ASB sponsored Homecoming dance held that evening from 8:30-11:30. Slick Trick was the band and pictures were by Burchetts.



Thoughtful, reflective expressions pass over Queen Dalene's face as she is crowned.

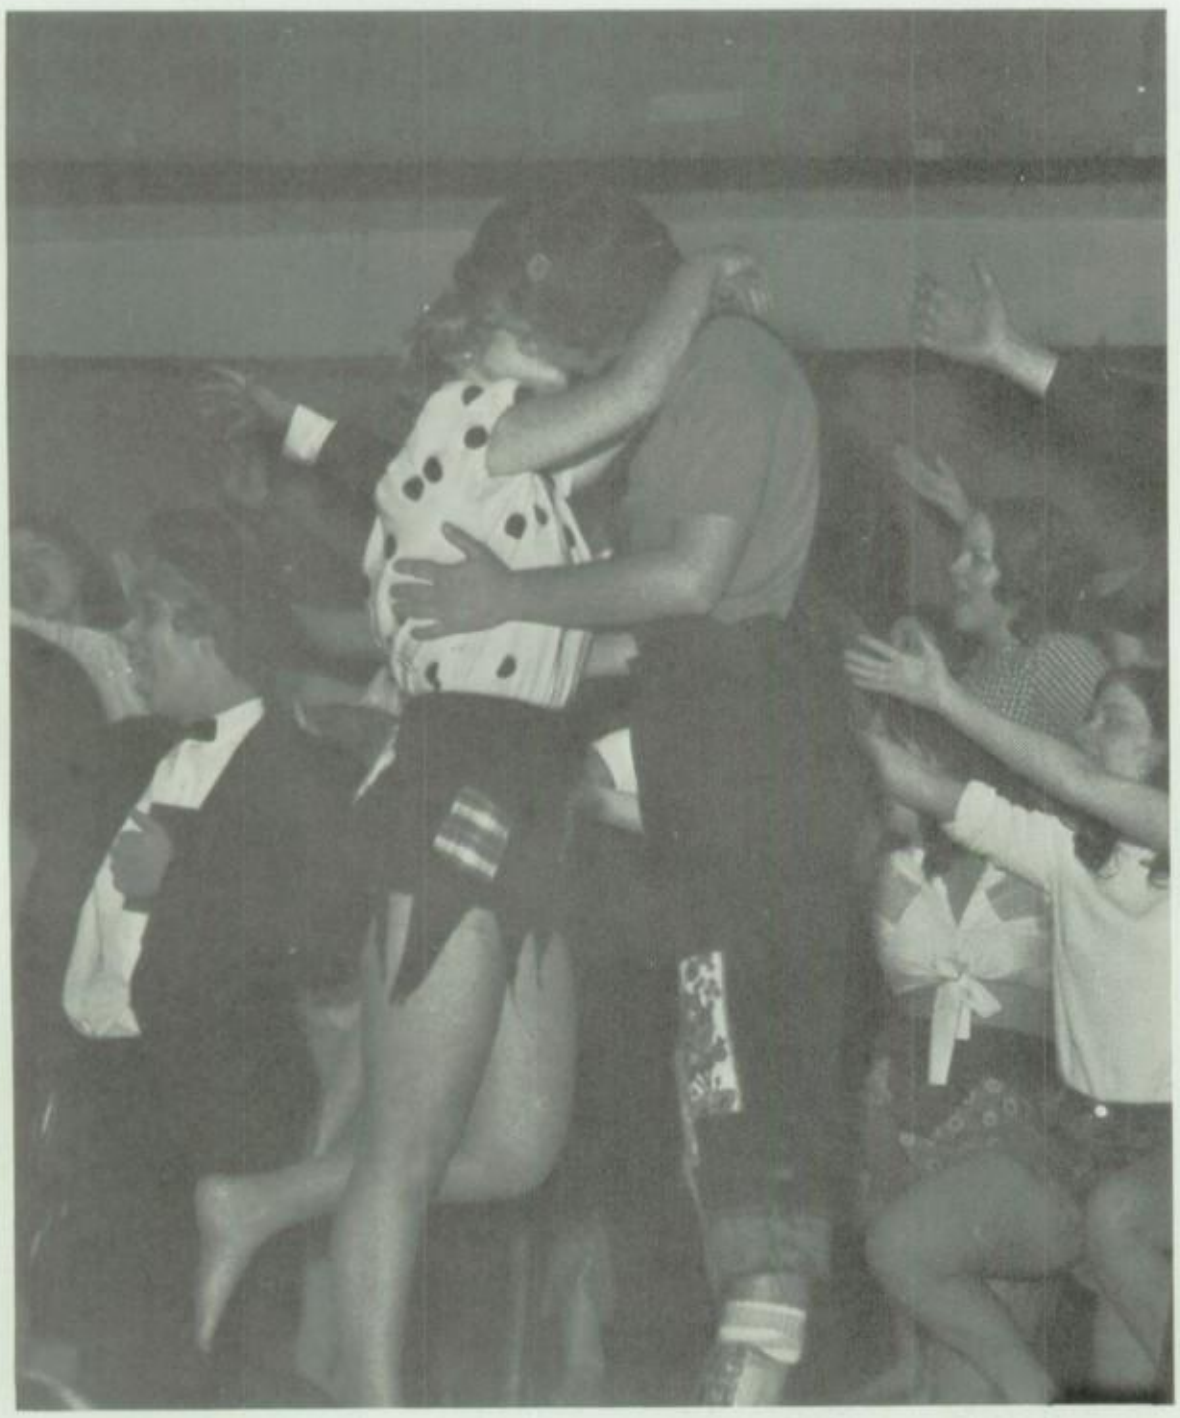
Drama Students Display Abilities



Steve Dionne and Louise Russel give the cast of Lil' Abner a whole lot to talk about.

Lil' Abner, an absolute riot of characters, and the first musical that the Rogers Music and Drama Departments has put on went over with a roar of applause and approval.

The play cast consisted of 127 people, including actors, singers, stage crew. It ran November 14-17, and on the night of the 14th a sneak preview was given for the casts' parents.

In an interview with Mr. Dale Brannon, he deemed it a very pleasant experience for everyone. Of course all of us are hoping for another musical next year that will either equal or surpass this one.

In one scene from Lil' Abner, Sue Hall seems to be a little uneas about the oncoming collision . . . .

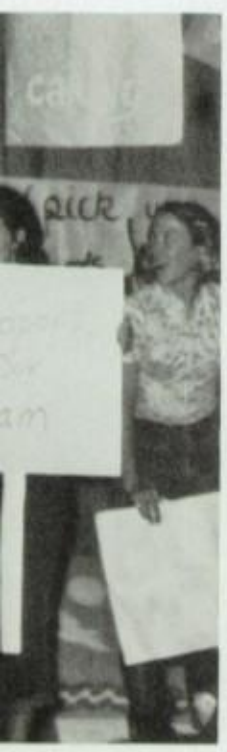
Special Events

One of the featured events here at Rogers is the cons put on by Red Barn and the Yell Squad. Starting the school year was a Sophomore Orientation Con to introduce new students to Rogers. ASB officers, cheerleaders, and some faculty members like Mr. Walters, Mr. Mummey and Mrs. Evans were given an opportunity to make these students feel welcome by telling what Rogers means to them.

Every other Friday the yell squad has cons to promote spirit for the athletic events. Mr. Walters, Pelo, Scheurman, and Raymond even dressed up as cheerleaders to get the Student Body psyched up.

Music and drama departments have helped the cons come to life. Drama has organized and planned the majority of the cons, and music has been produced through long hours of work by the band.

Tracy Walters shuts his eyes in despair as he remembers he forgot to shave his legs last night.



Mr. Spin Win Mabbott once again displays his talent at the annual Spin Win Con.

Elaine Howerton seems to be getting a real charge out of John Link, as she interviews him for a news story.

Editor of the Rogers Record, Shelia Smith, can't believe it when she's told there's no news.

Record Staff Reports News Scene

While this year's Paper Staff has worked diligently in the production of the Rogers Record, lack of funds has hampered the staff's ability to efficiently produce papers on a regular basis.

Members include: Kip Adams, John Blindauer, Myron Bursell, Tim Herman, John Link, Jerry Selbo, and Joanne Shiosaki. Mr. James Buckley, the staff advisor, has helped immensely with both the Photo Staff and the Annual Staff.

Mr. Jim Buckley grins with excitement as he's caught showing Doug Nortell how to focus on beautiful girls.

Treasure Chest Staff Overcomes

Rogers 1973-1974 Annual Staff members have strived to make an interesting, unique, and captivating yearbook.

Eighteen people started in the spring of 1973 with a field trip to Spokane Falls Community College to learn the basic fundamentals of Yearbook production.

Staff members have met every fifth period for nine months welded together as a cohesive working unit, to make layouts, write copyblocks and cutlines to make this year's Annual a success.

Staff members have struggled hard after school to meet the many deadlines.

Advisor Mr. Clay Swisher comes in to find a hard working staff.

all Obstacles

Business Management and Advertising- Bette Kondo, Leanne Olmstead, and Robyn Diehl are shown as they try to raise money for the Treasure Chest.

Faculty, Classes, Academics- Kathy Blank and Wendy Moore work hard on layouts as Larry Barker and Joanne Ross look on.

Pixie Halstead, Layout Coordinator, just can't quite believe Copy Coordinator, Kathy Hill's story about last weekend.

Bruce Johnson thinks real hard as he tries to convince Kip Adams, Stan Kerr, and Duane Siverson which picture is best for the Sports section.

Each of the Student Life members Sally Carns, Nancy Owens, and Jackie Higashi have many ideas about what should go into their section.

Rocky Glenn works so hard he missed lunch. Right now he seems to think his boot tastes pretty good.

All are attentive as Theresa Shaunessy voices her opinion in student council.

Good leadership assists ASB in Spring ASB President, Steve Dionne, gives a "helping" hand as his officers, treasurer, Tonie Chacon; vice-president, Sue Rogers and secretary, Sandy Prosser take orders.

The leadership camp at Fan Lake was one of the main activities of the Fall ASB. Students met during the summer to organize this early September project. All those who attended felt the camp worthwile as it brought together all grades at Rogers. Feelings of unity and togetherness were expressed by many students.

Other projects sponsored by the Fall ASB were three successful dances, the Christmas canned food drive, and a city-wide student exchange.

During the spring term, ASB was found active in levy elections, providing rides for elderly people to voting locations.

The main goals and aims of this administration were to get more students active in ASB; they tried to make ASB more for everybody instead of just the leaders at Rogers.

Mr. Paul MacGown, Advisor to the ASB, offers suggestions at student student council.

Operating Smoothly

Smiles were seen on the many faces of those who participated in the Fan Lake leadership camp.

Girls' League officers and Advisor Mrs. Evans clap with delight at the good turnout at Dad Daughter Night.

Winners of the Girl of the Month for the fall semester were Sue Rogers, Roni Payton, and Nellie Ramsey. They won on basis of academic achievement and contributions to the school.

Michelle Vickery throws herself on the mercy of the audience after her tutu splits.

Girls' League officers for the fall semester tackled and achieved such goals as the annual Dad Daughter Dessert, held Nov. 20 and the Pajama Dance held Nov. 30.

The girls also enhanced relationships with other schools by distributing greeting cards on appropriate occasions.

Boys' Fed. returned this year after a year of absence. As they got a slow start, their main duties were to help with the smoking and parking lot problems.

Advisors Dale Mummey and Joyce Evans have a good laugh after being caught trying to break into Mr. MacGown's office.

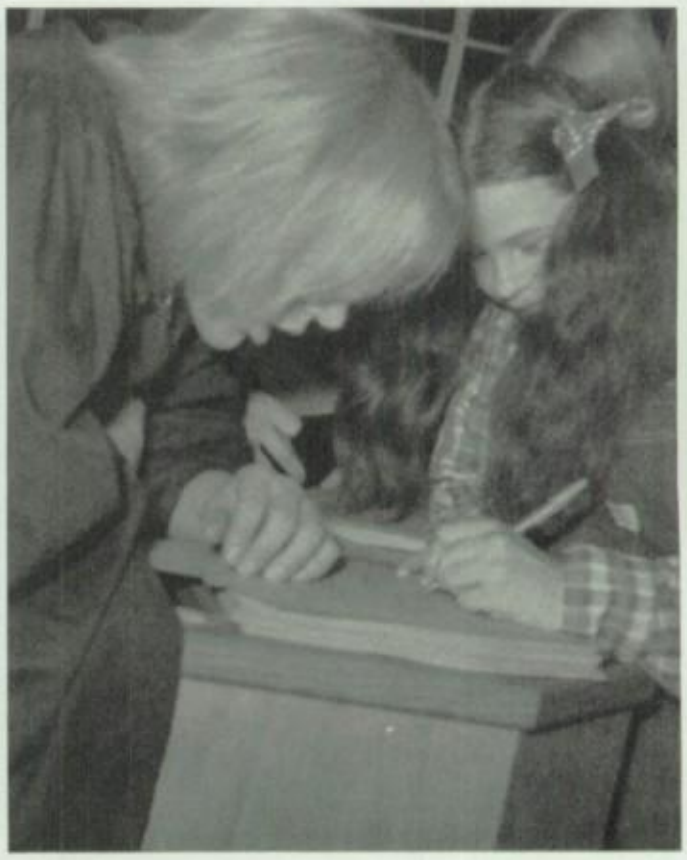
Fall Dances Cast Thoughtful, Excited

Marge Webb imagines "Visions of Sugar Plums", as she drifts off to dreamland.



Marrying Sam, Tracy Starke, glares with awe as Syndi Carpenter signs the license.

Kipp Adams squeals with delight as he takes five to cool off. John Link and Val Bell are stunned when Kipp reveals all.

Expressions

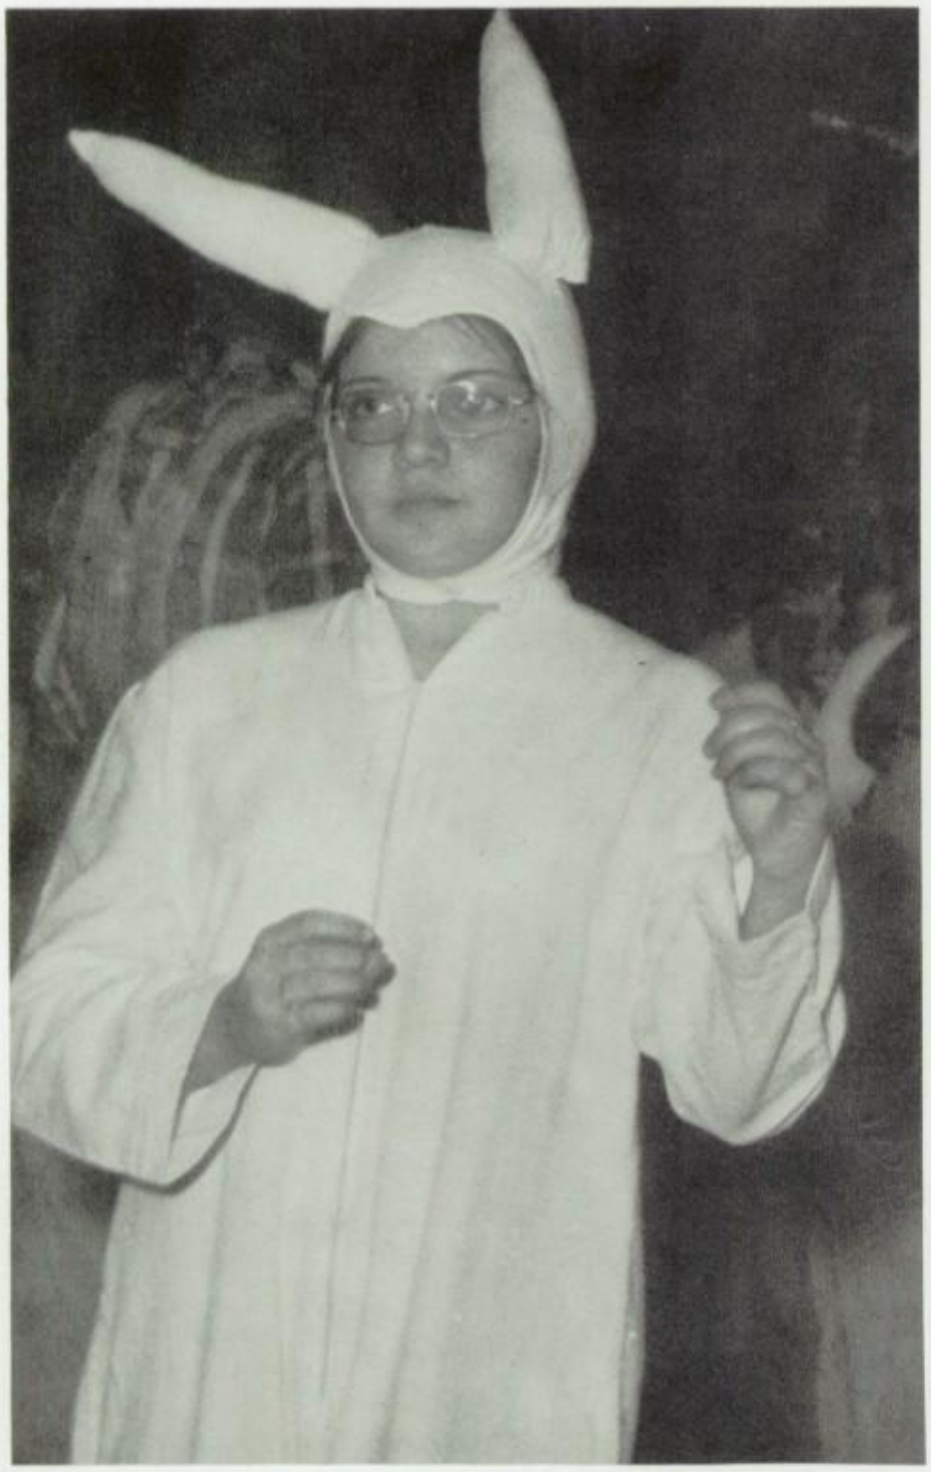
Good participation was a big factor in making dances a success.

Traditionally a Dog Patch dance, this year's Sadie saw everything from bouncing bunnies to colorful clowns.

Homecoming had a more formal look with couples attired in semiformal wear.

December brought the Girls' League sponsored Pajama dance as 150 couples bought red Teddy Bear tickets and came garbed in their fancy flannels to dance to "Daybreak."

Many students take time out to relax and enjoy the music.



Chickie Toulou bubbles with excitement(?)while she boogies at the Hop.

Are you going to lead or shall I?

Orchestra

The band and orchestra participated in many activities throughout the year. Three successful concerts were given along with contributing to school spirit. Entertaining many spectators at football, the band played while executing various formations.

This year the band will be marching in the Annual Torchlight Parade. During the summer months they will also represent Rogers as they play at Expo.

Mr. Jim Baker is advisor and director of the band and orchestra.

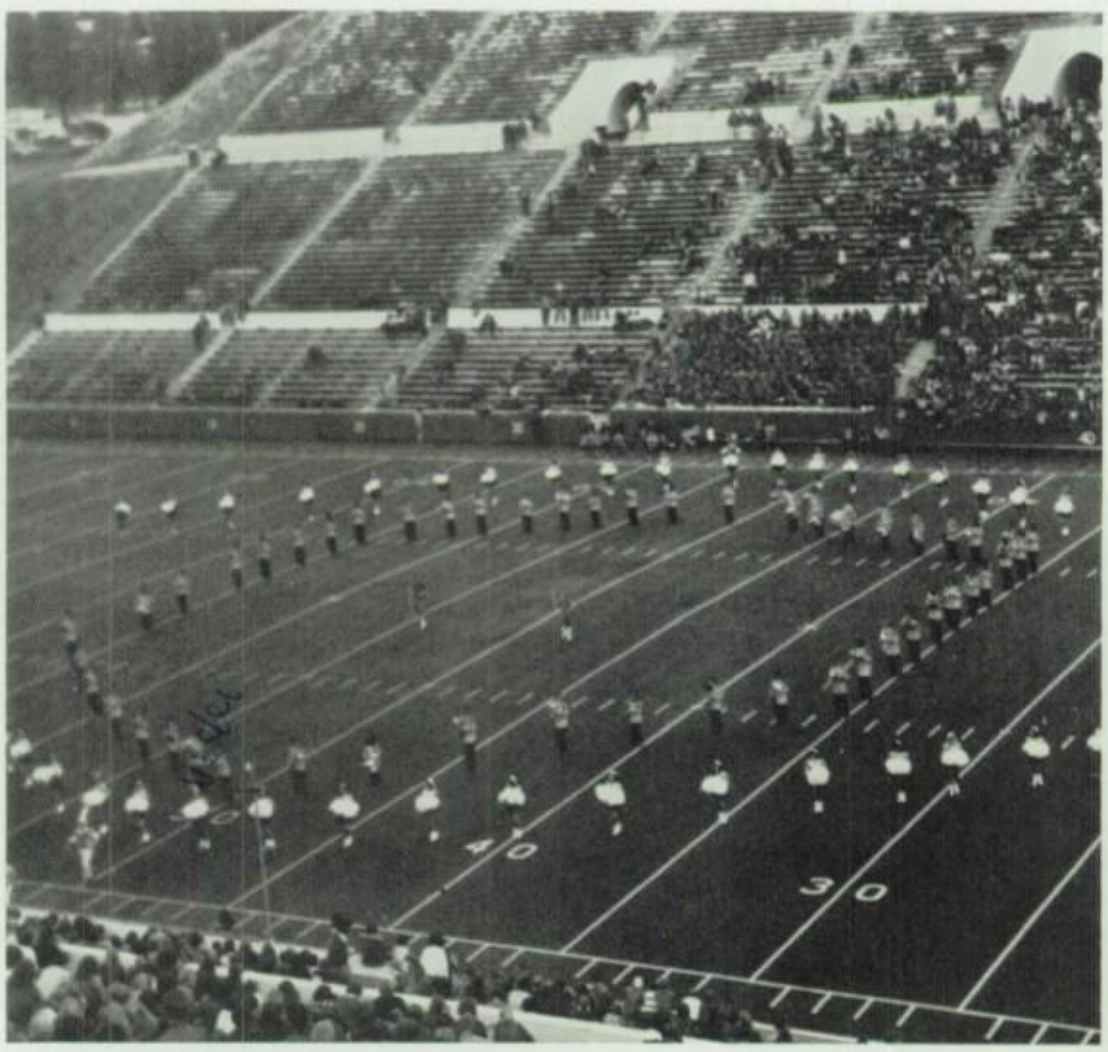
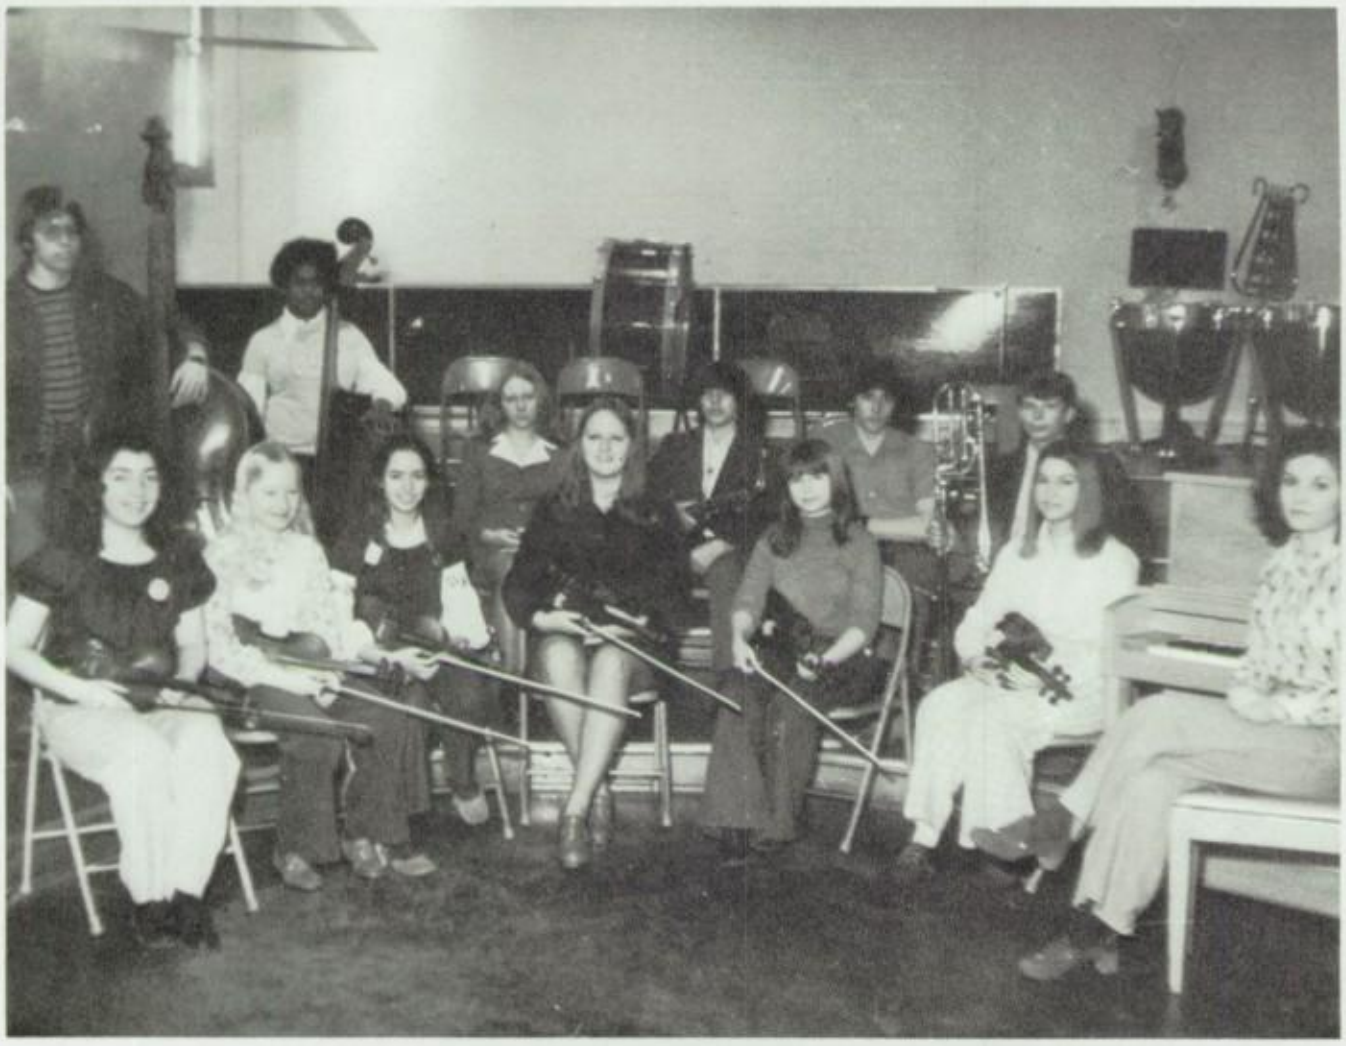
Susan Crain (not pictured) was the only Rogers representative from the band to go to All-State, while three members of orchestra, Cynthia Honer, Donna Poole, and Joyce Goble were able to attend March 13-17.



Timing and tempo are just two of the factors needed to have a good half-time performance. The band did an exceptional job all year long.

Band Offer Choice Musical Renditions



Mr. Baker and drum major, Bob Hartle, discuss techniques for this weeks halftime performance.

Talented 7 Picked for All-State Choir

It has been traditional in the past for one or two All-State Choir members to be chosen from one school, but this year Rogers was proud to be represented by a record number of seven. All-State was held in Richland from March 13 17.

Highlighting the year for Symphonic Choir, was a trip to Victoria B.C. during the end of May.

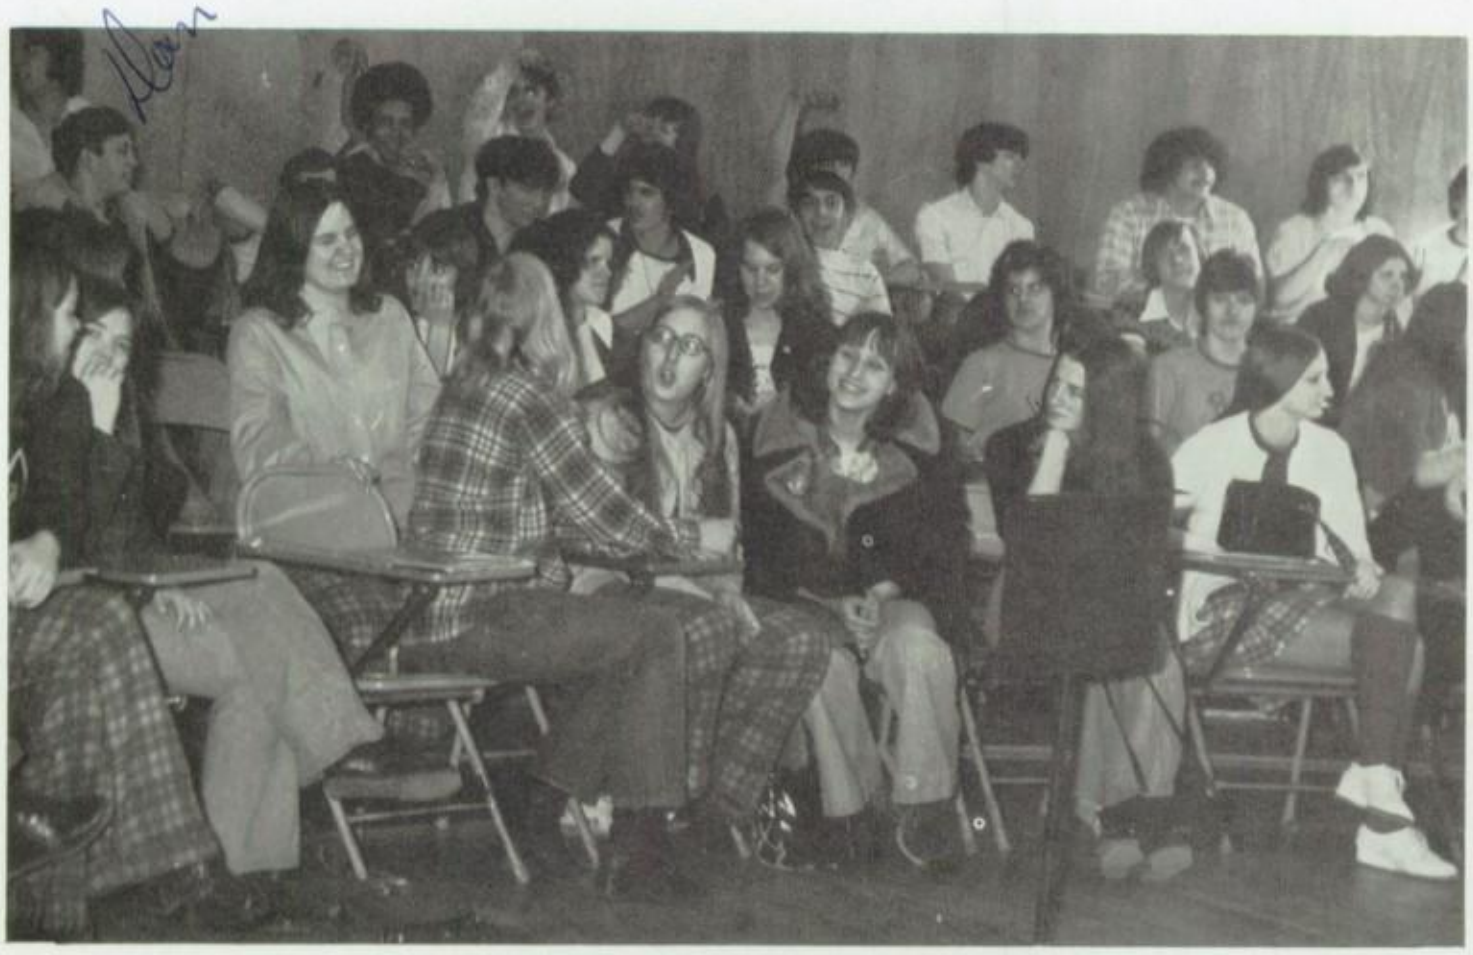
Mr. Wenz is shown as he makes arrangements for the Choirs.



Despite the many hours of work it takes to prepare for a concert, Choir members also find time to relax and just "let loose".

Waiting to see who will get the award for "Best Legs" in Concert Choir are John Lowe, Kevin Braegger, and Greg Veltri.

Warmth

Cooperation and hard work were two qualities found in Choir members that helped them to have a eventful year. Five successful concerts, a spaghetti feed, and car washes were just a few of the many activities of the Choirs. Early morning rehearsals was one example of how they sought for perfection. Through the ASB, the Choral Department received a new electric piano which added new sounds and vibrations to their songs. Shiveson, seen in red, white, and blue, was very busy with many performances.

Pirettes, Cheerleaders, Yelldukes Display

It would be very difficult to name all the things that the Pirettes do as a group. They have sponsored award banquets and have gotten up early to decorate houses. Simple things such as going into the cafeteria on game days or making tags for the players were just a few acts of spirit displayed by the Pirettes.

The many activities of Pirettes were not just confined to supporting the Pirate teams. They also had Christmas projects where many hours were spent making up bags of candy for all the students, snowmen tray favors for St. Josephs and caroling at Riverview Terrace and St. Josephs Nursing Homes.

During the year they adopted two elderly ladies in the community as their "Grandmas". Each month they received food collected by the girls.

In the spring they began preparing for the Lilac Parade.

With an average membership of fifty girls, pep club members could be heard giving their "all" in support of the Pirates. Frequent attendance at B-squad games showed pride and spirit within the group.

Activities included a pot luck dinner and a Pirette-Pep club banquet. At the banquet their spring officers were tapped.

This year Rogers had five instead of four B-squad cheerleaders. Tryouts were before a panel of judges with the ASB representatives having the final vote.

At pep cons, shouts of enthusiasm were one of the many signs of school spirit shown by the Pep Club.

Beauty and charm are a few of the qualities seen in Sue Rogers as she poses for a picture.

Spring Sports Royalty with all their charm and beauty helped give that extra little excitement that bubbles in all in the opening days of Spring.

Sue Rogers senior queen, Joanne Shiosaki, junior princess, and Laurie Brickner, sophomore princess were picked by all the members of spring sports teams.

A coronation con was held for all the school to come and honor these beautiful girls. A dance was held March 29 with the theme "In the Afterglow". Girls League and Boys Fed. put the dance on in honor of the royalty.

Kathy Blancher, Spring Sports Chairman, shows how happy she is about the Spring Sports Royalty.

Assorted Clubs

As all the members of Rogers Rifle Club turn their deadly gaze upon you, you will know, they'll never miss.

Chess Club members are waiting to make their next move.

National Honor Society members are seen trying to look as intelligent as possible in one of their early morning meetings.

Add Diversity to Everyday School Life

Challenge, skilled, honor, and kindness are words to associate with students who belong to many of the different clubs at Rogers. A Challenge is seen in the seven member Chess Club advised by Mr. Swisher. They are seen twice weekly in the cafeteria perfecting their moves.

Rifle Club is also an example of a Skilled group. Their main goal is to become a better marksmen.

Honor is seen in National Honor Society. Students are chosen into HHS by teachers on the basis of leadership, scholarship and character.

Skull Club, a Lettermen's club, shows Kindness by becoming big brothers to fatherless boys.

Spring Girls League, Boys Fed

Unity and a warm togetherness were witnessed by the spring Girls League, Boys Fed. officers. They worked together to accomplish one of the most successful dances at Rogers. The dance was held March 29 with the popular band Frenship playing. April 12 was another grand day, as John Rogers for Girls League, Boys Fed. put on a mixer for one and all.

Girls League also worked on such things as the annual Senior Mothers Tea held in May for departing senior girls and their mothers. Bright, cheery colors of spring were seen March 29, "Spring Day" when girls of all ages were seen wearing their striking outfits. A con was held to pick the most outstanding outfit worn that day.

Boys Fed. surged forward and came through with many money raising projects. Car washes, car rallies, car bashes were a great success. A one-on-one contest in basketball was held with the winner receiving a trophy.

No, these aren't Miss World candidates! They're the Girls League officers, Bev Stolp, secretary; Joanne Ross, president; Melody Treadwell, vice president; Lorraine Hartle, Treasurer.

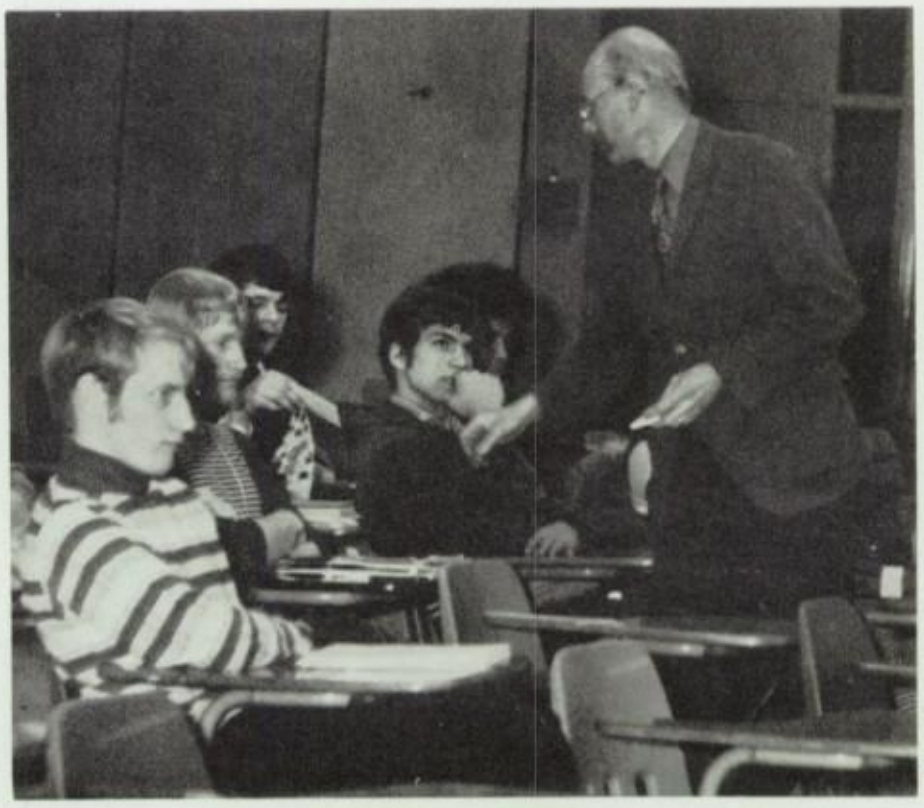
Boys Fed. officers Jack Ruhling, secretary; Myron Bursell, president; Dan Kerr, vice president; Paul Hamilton, sgt. at arms; Marty Harris, treasurer pray for release, but no chance guys, people know how your minds' work.

Develop Unity, Harmony

Boys Fed. and Girls League officers were seen with Mr. Mummey at Smitty's Pancake House developing a feeling of unity!

Joanne Ross, spring Girls League president, is seen being initiated into her office by past president, Robyn Hubbard.

Myron Bursell, Boys Fed. president, seems to get along with the Girls League officers very well!



Mr. Dale Mummey, advisor to Boys Fed. is seen giving a helping hand at one of the monthly Boys Fed. meetings.

Junior Class Celebrates Prom

Develops Everlasting Memories

As many young couples danced to Fresh Fifth, one could experience a mood of everlasting happiness!

Every year a few people in the junior class work diligently to make the prom a success; this year was no exception.

Various money raising projects included car washes and selling candles.

Class officers were: Pres, Duane Jacobs; V.Pres, Doug Nortell; Treas, Tammy Howard; and Sec, Maria Poydras.

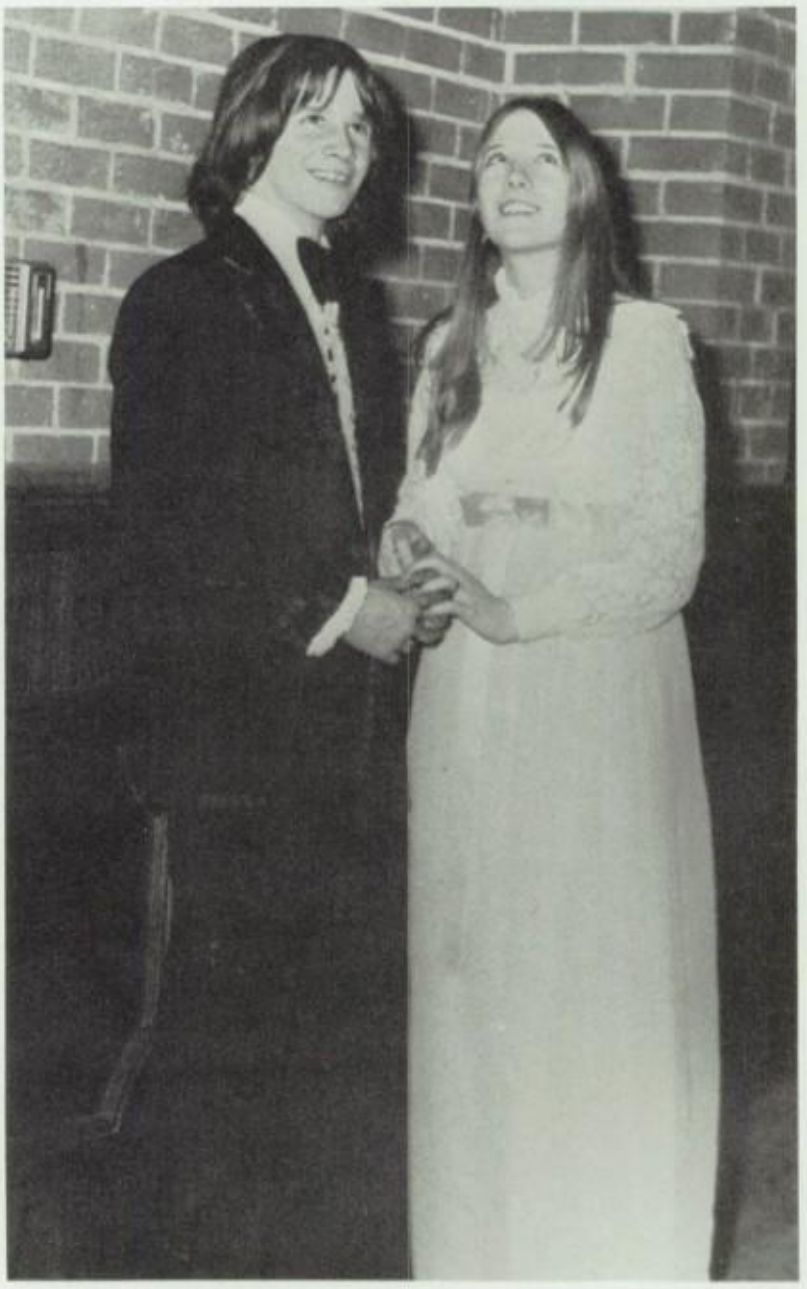
Familiar Faces Join . . . at Senior Prom

Senior Class officers Pres., Kipp Adams; V.-Pres., Stan Kerr; Sec., Chris Zibell and Treas., Jeff Fallgren in coordination with Senior class advisor Mr. Ken Pelo and many concerned seniors worked hard to make the prom a success.

Money making projects included everything from bake sales to a rock concert by Kid Coco held in the fieldhouse.

This year's Senior Prom was held May 18, at the Spokane Club from 9-12. Music was by Fresh Fifth.

Many familiar faces were seen as couples arrived at the Senior Prom.



Contentment shows on the faces of John Smith and Ann Moore as they relax at the Spokane Club.

Diane Henshaw reveals a thoughtful look as she gives her prepared speech.

This year Rogers had eleven girls competing for the title of Lilac Princess.

The four finalists, Diane Henshaw, Jackie Higashi, Roni Payton, and Sandy Toulou prepared themselves for the final judging held on March 21 at 3 in the Goldroom. Each girl gave a three minute speech on Expo and answered an extemporaneous question.

Entertainment was provided by Sue Crain, Robyn Hubbard, and Donna Kissell. MC, Ira Joe Fisher was also called upon to entertain while the judges conferred.

After an endless wait, Roni Payton was named our 1974 Lilac Princess.

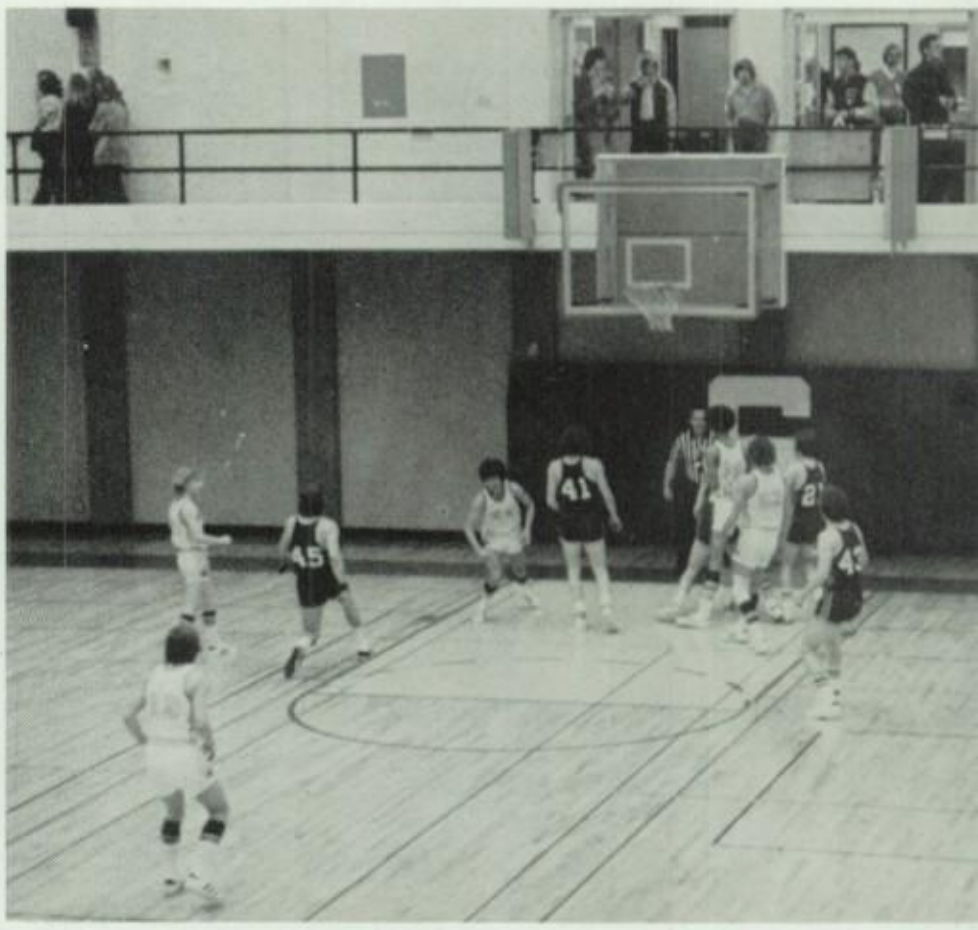
5'10" Duane Siverson (12) finds unbelievable spring in his legs as he wins the tip from a taller Preppy in the Christmas Tournament.



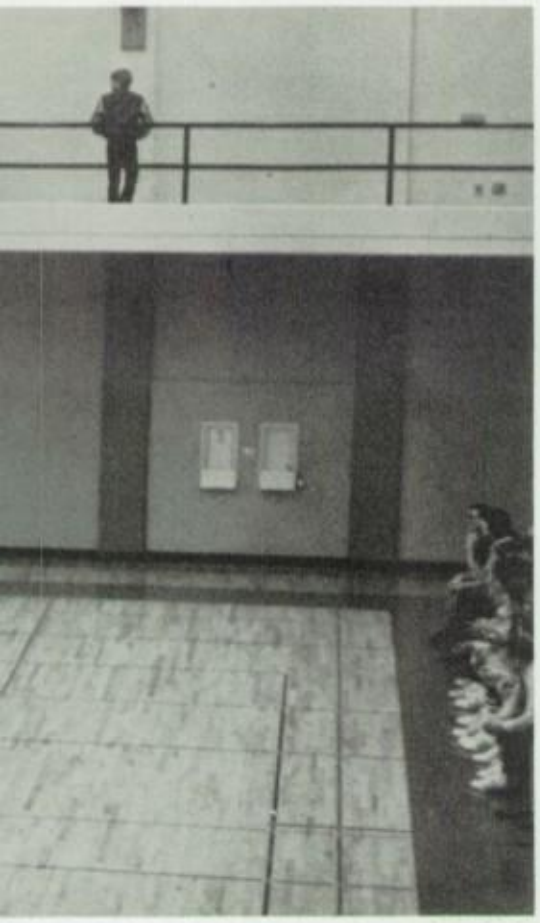
In its early stages the Bucs set up their handy 3-1-1 zone press. The press proved to be bothersome to most opponents who faced the fast-breaking Pirates. G-Prep fell victim to the Bucs in this game which put the Pirates in third place.

Xmas Tournament

Defensive standout, Mark Kinzer, rips off a G-Prep pass and takes it all the way for a slam dunk.

If All-City awards could be given, these seven cheerleaders would probably receive them because of their enthusiasm and school spirit.

"When the heck is this darn game gonna end. I'm tired!" exclaims Mark Kinzer.



The Rogers Pirates started the tournament in excellent fashion by defeating Moscow and breaking four records at the same time. In the semifinals, the Bucs had command of the game and then got the 3rd quarter blues and were upset by Central Valley. The Bucs defeated Gonzaga Prep to finish in 3rd place with a 2-1 record.

Big John Bray (52) takes a swipe at the ball only to get his hand caught in the net.

Cage Squad finish in disappointing

The Pirates, pre-season favorites, captured 2nd place after beating Shadle 67-55 in a play-off game. The night before, the Bucs lost the championship to Gonzaga in overtime, 57-54 in a hotly contested game which saw three starting Bucs foul out. Second place seeded the Pirates into District semi-finals.

The Pirates must be running away with the contest as the bench looks very relaxed.

With that look of determination on his face, Ed Poydras comes off the boards with one of his many rebounds. Brother of Ed, Tony Poydras and Stan Kerr (22) outmaneuver other LC ballplayers for good board position. Rebounding was a strong point for the Pirates.

Pirate scoring and rebounding ace, Tony Poydras, uses all of his 6'6" frame to score easily over a Ferris player.

Bruce "Spooner" Johnson checks things on the scoreboard as he tries to play yo-yo with the basketball.

Rogers all-sport trainer, Lloyd Schaffer, works diligently to wrap an injured knee. Lloyd is very popular and is a great guy to know.

Center of Pirate rebounding strength, Tony Poydras (35) goes skyward for another rebound. John Bray (53) and Ed Poydras (43) move in to round out the excellent Buckboard strength. Duane Siverson (13) ended up 6th in the City League scoring race.

No team is complete unless the fans feel a part of the team and the team feels a part of the fans. These loyal fans backed the Pirates 100% throughout the year, especially the Rowdies from Hillyard!

Antonio "Bones" Poydras, the 73-74 City League Player of the Year, is the city's leading scorer, leading rebounder and is also on the KSPS All-Star Team.

6'4" Johnathan P. Bray swept All-City votes from both papers. Bray also made the KSPS All-Star Squad.

A look at the Rogers bench during the course of this game shows the players' concern. I wonder what they're looking at? Could it be they see their girl-friend with some other guy or maybe some girl they'd trade their girl-friend for?

T. Poydras, Player of the Year

Senior Duane Siverson made second team All-City on both papers and the KSPS All-Star Team.

The trio of Bray, Poydras and Siverson dominated individual city league statistics from the start of the season to the end. Bray posted a 15.2 average for the best in the city. Poydras lead all rebounders with 140 rebounds and the most points with 148. Siverson finished at 6th place in the scoring race.

It looks as though there's something good to eat up there as Jeff Rabel (41) Boy Colella (25) and Craig Erickson (33) all have their mouths open, waiting for it to come down. But, Dan Skinner (15) is on the move so he can share the goodies, too.

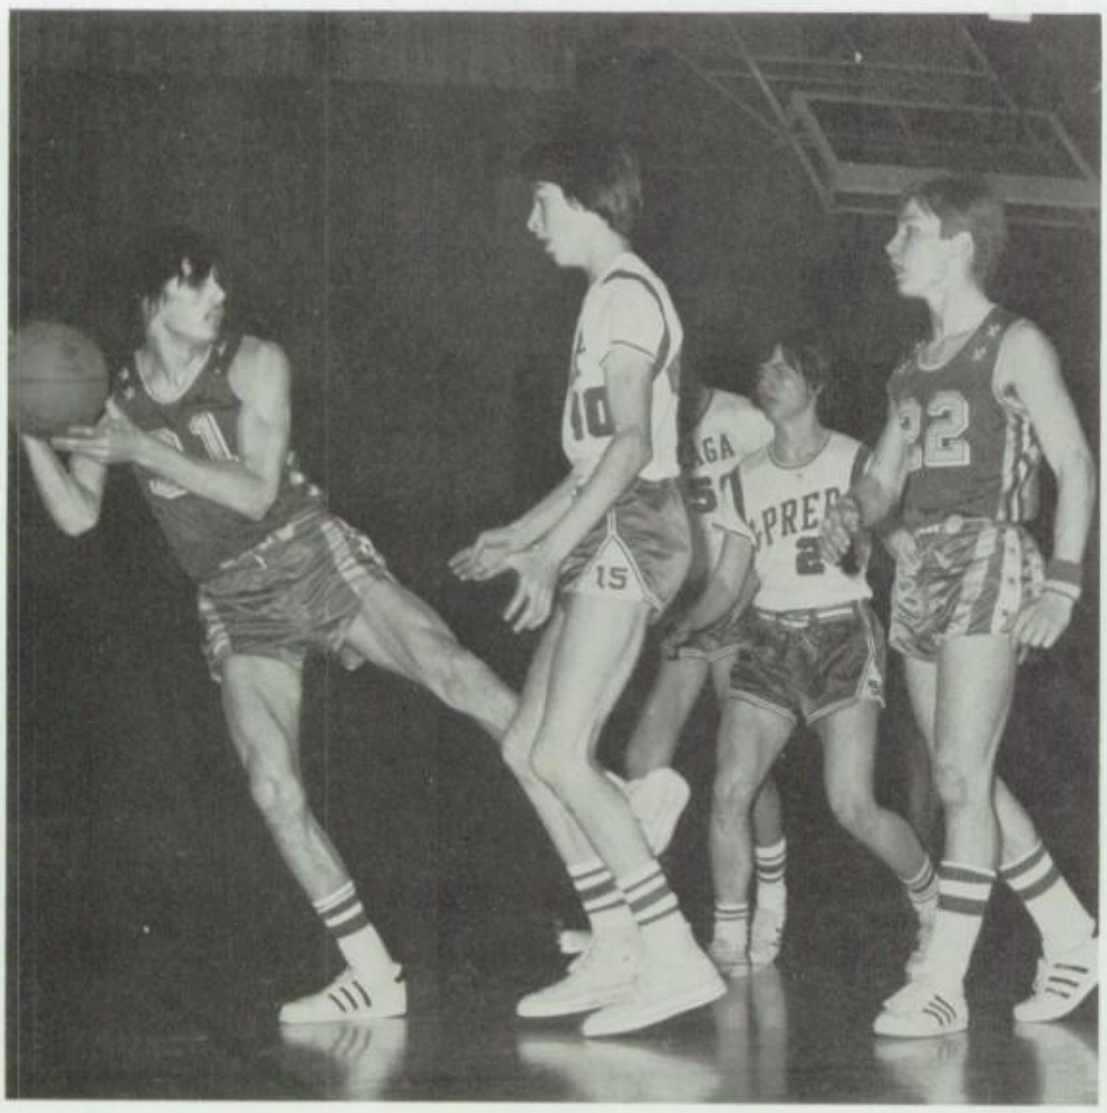
Young Cagers do Well in League

The Rogers Junior Varsity and B-Squad teams were very successful finishing 2nd and 3rd respectively. Defense, effort, and a lot of work seemed to be big factors to their success. Poor shooting percent was the major setback on both teams.



Robin Moran (31) has a few choice words for Prep player as he is shoved out of bounds. In return, Bill Olmstead (22) decides he'll punch the Preppy's lights out.

This year's Cross Country team is the best Coach Kinzer has had in three years, as they won two and lost three. Next year looks promising for the Bucs because all varsity runners will be back except Senior Kevin Smith. Below: Junior Craig Erickson is the only state competitor for the Bucs.

Coach Kinzer (jokingly?) threatens his team before a mid-season Cross Country meet against Shadle Park. The Pirates ran top form and defeated the Highlanders.

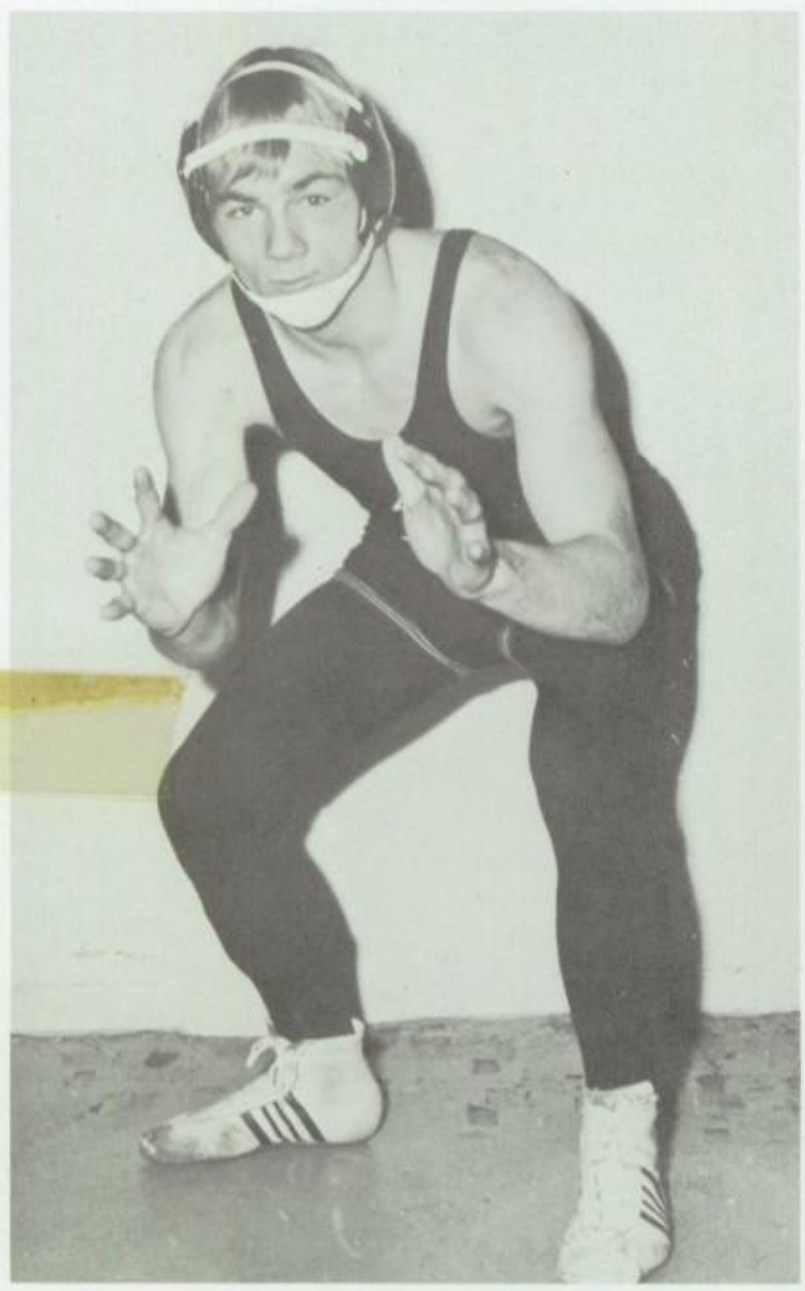
Outstanding Sophomore Charley Schwartz uses all of his 108 pounds as he strains to put his opponent on his back. Charley's efforts in this match provided him with a tough 1-0 decision.

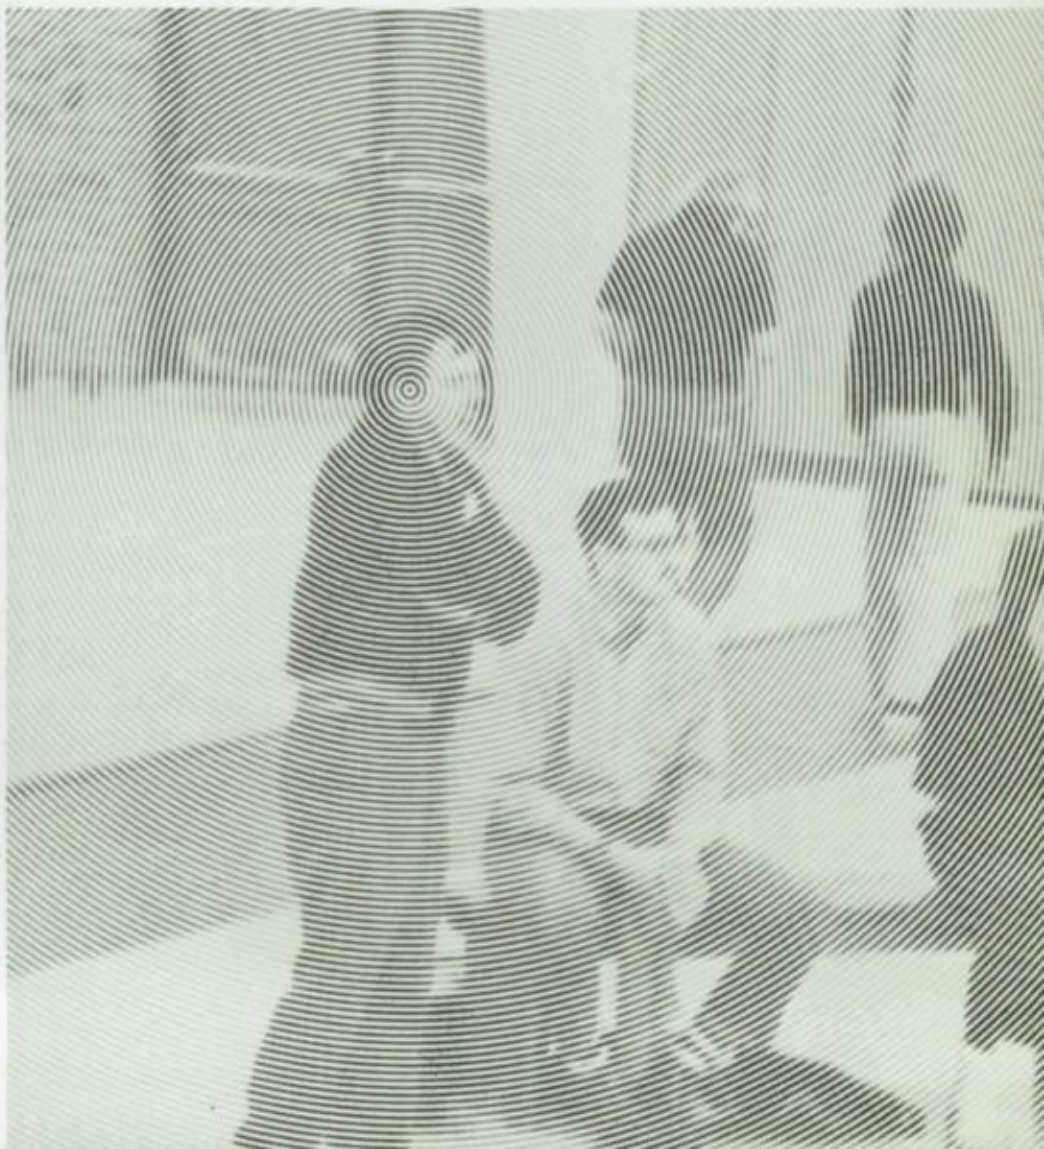
Wiry junior Dan Kerr plants opponent's head in mat en route to win over NC. The team was predominantly juniors which hurt the Pirates from a standpoint of experience on varsity. Despite Kerr's effort, the Buc's lost the match.

Young Matmen look toward future

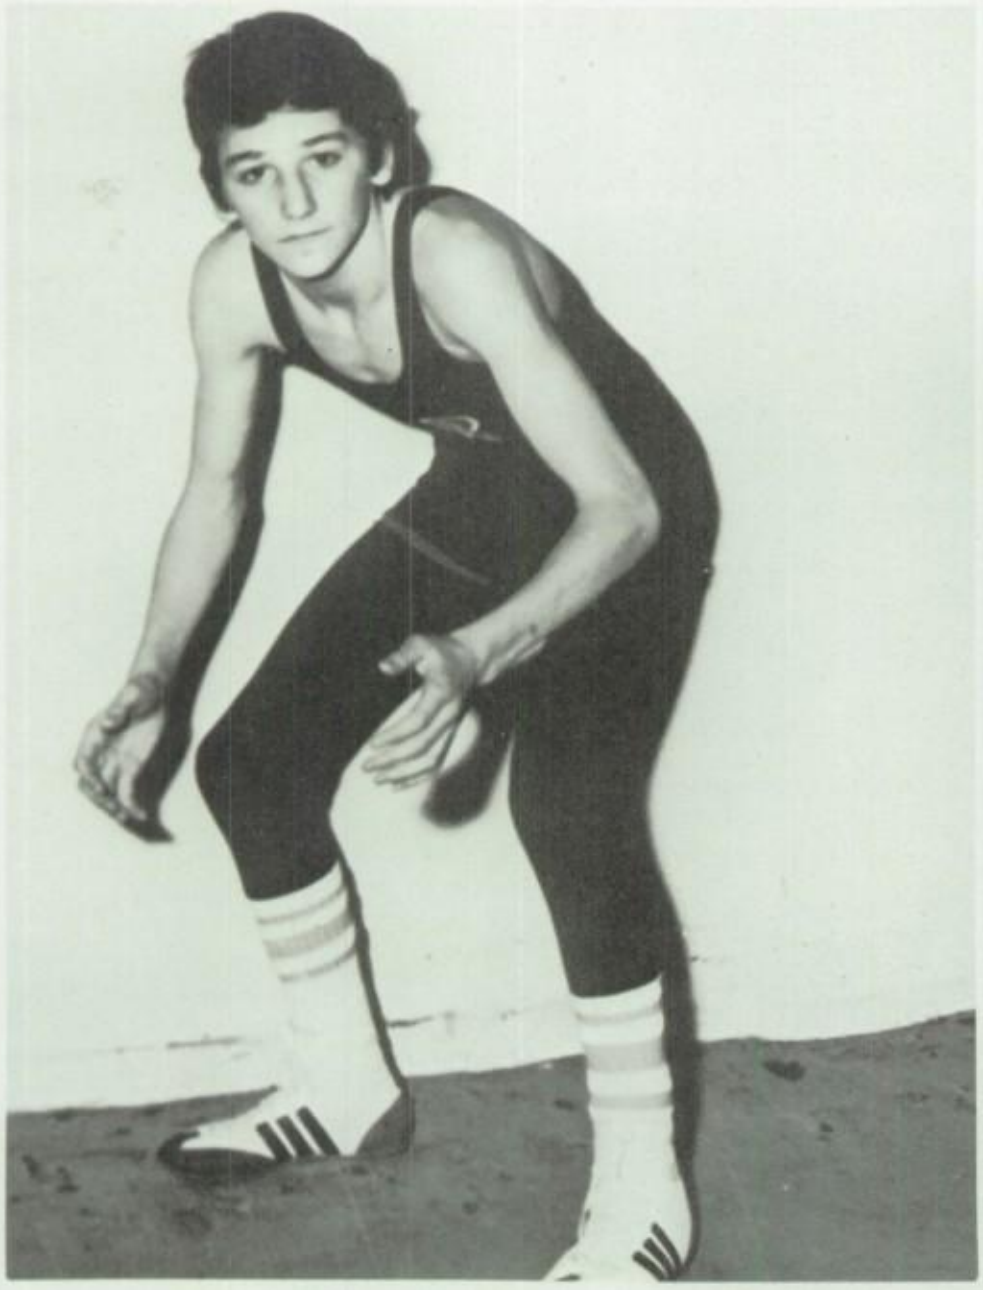


State veteran Randy Lemon, undefeated in city competition, hopes to take the 148 pound State Crown this year.

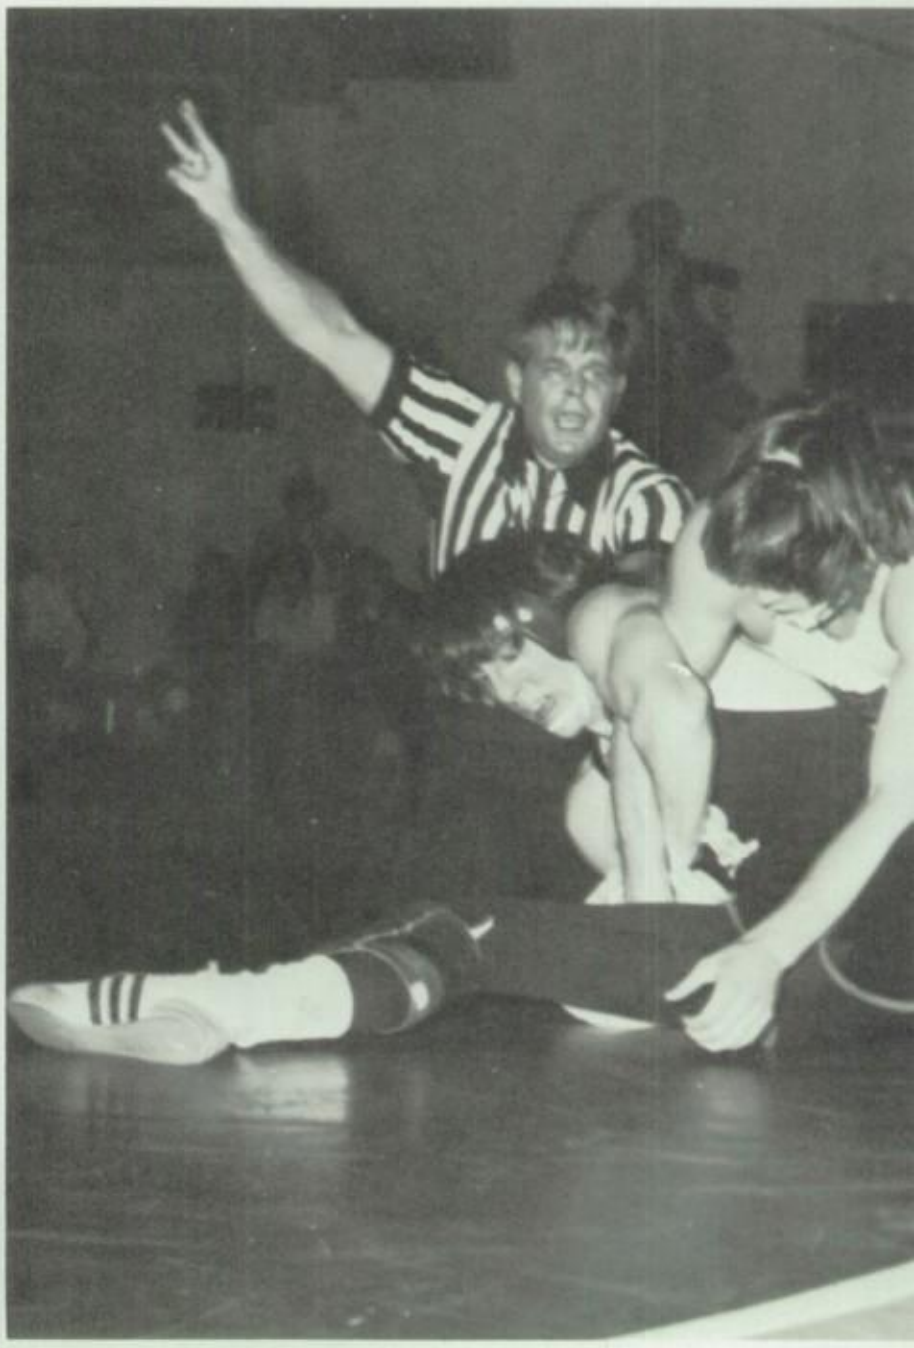
A dismal 0-8 record for the Pirate's produced some feelings throughout the school. It is hoped that these feelings will once again become sweet next year because many of the varsity grapplers will be back. Randy Lemon, Dan Jessup, Curt Jensen and Greg Galloway are the lone Seniors on the team.



Lack of Experience



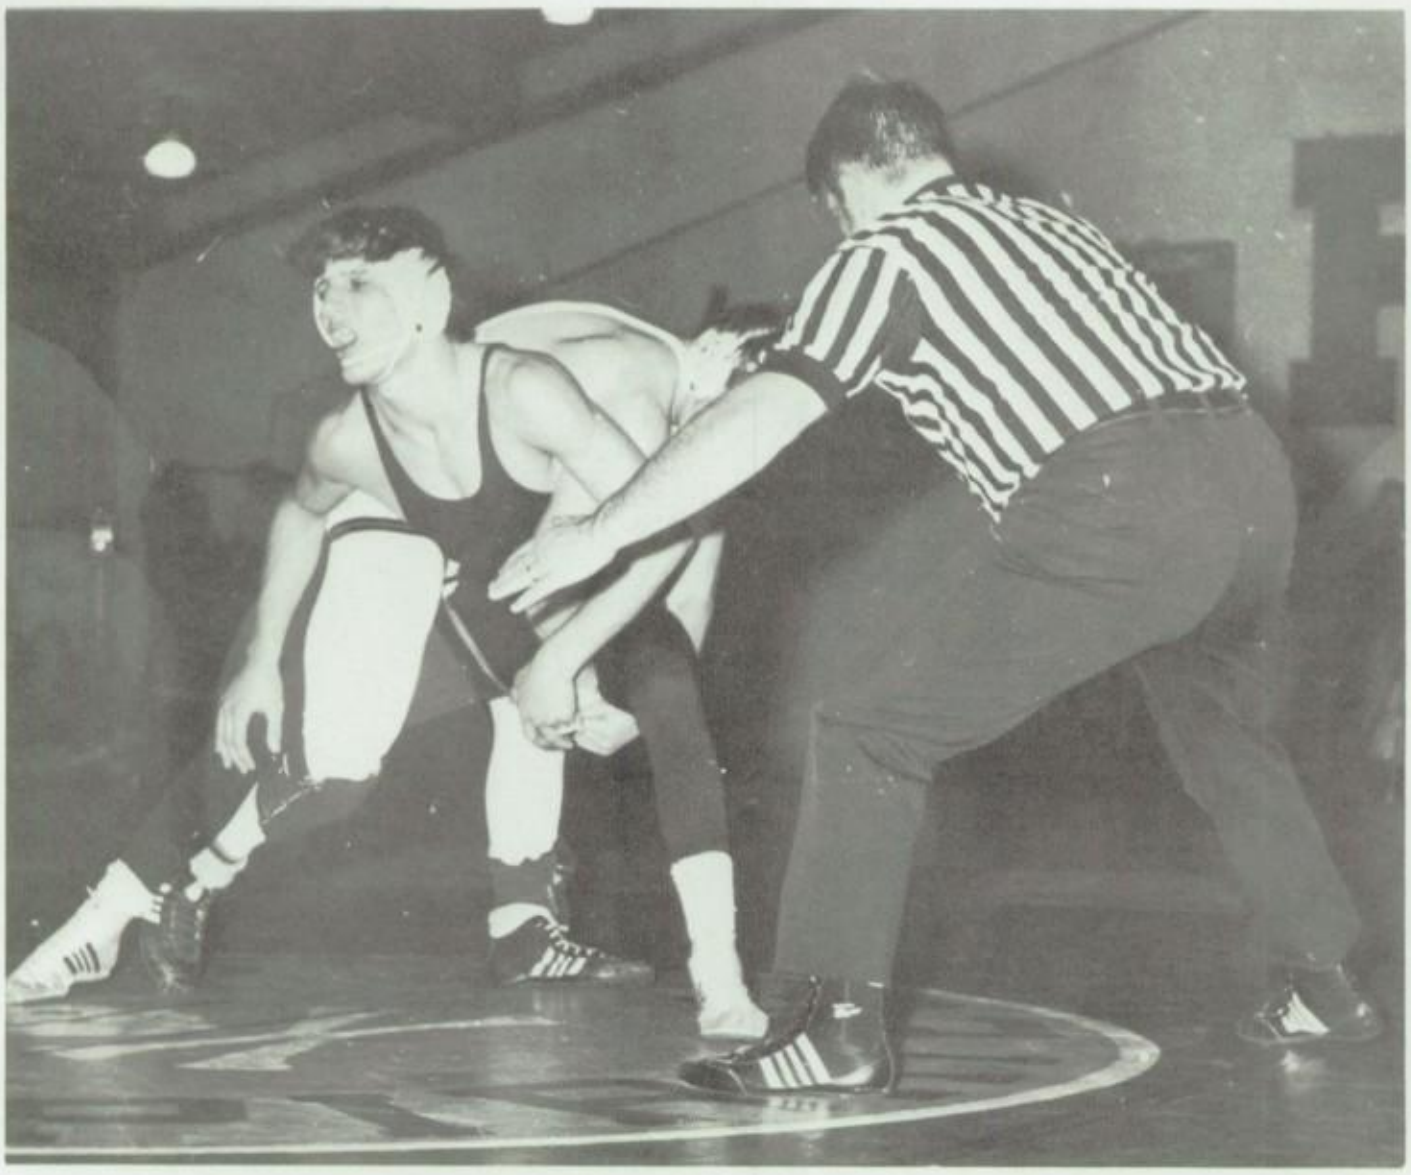
District Champion at 101 lbs., Tracy Olson, strikes his frightful takedown pose. Olson will head up the tough lightweights on next year's team.



Paul Hamilton, junior at 158, was undefeated in city league and was the Grappler's only State competitor getting third place. In regionals he defeated Oman, the State Champ, 3-1.

Determined first year grappler, Curt Jensen, struggles to escape from an NC opponent.

Evident With Young Buc Matmen



Strongman, Jerry Engdahl shows what wrestling is all about as he attempts to try standing switch on NC opponent. Jerry, a junior, will try to go undefeated in his senior year.

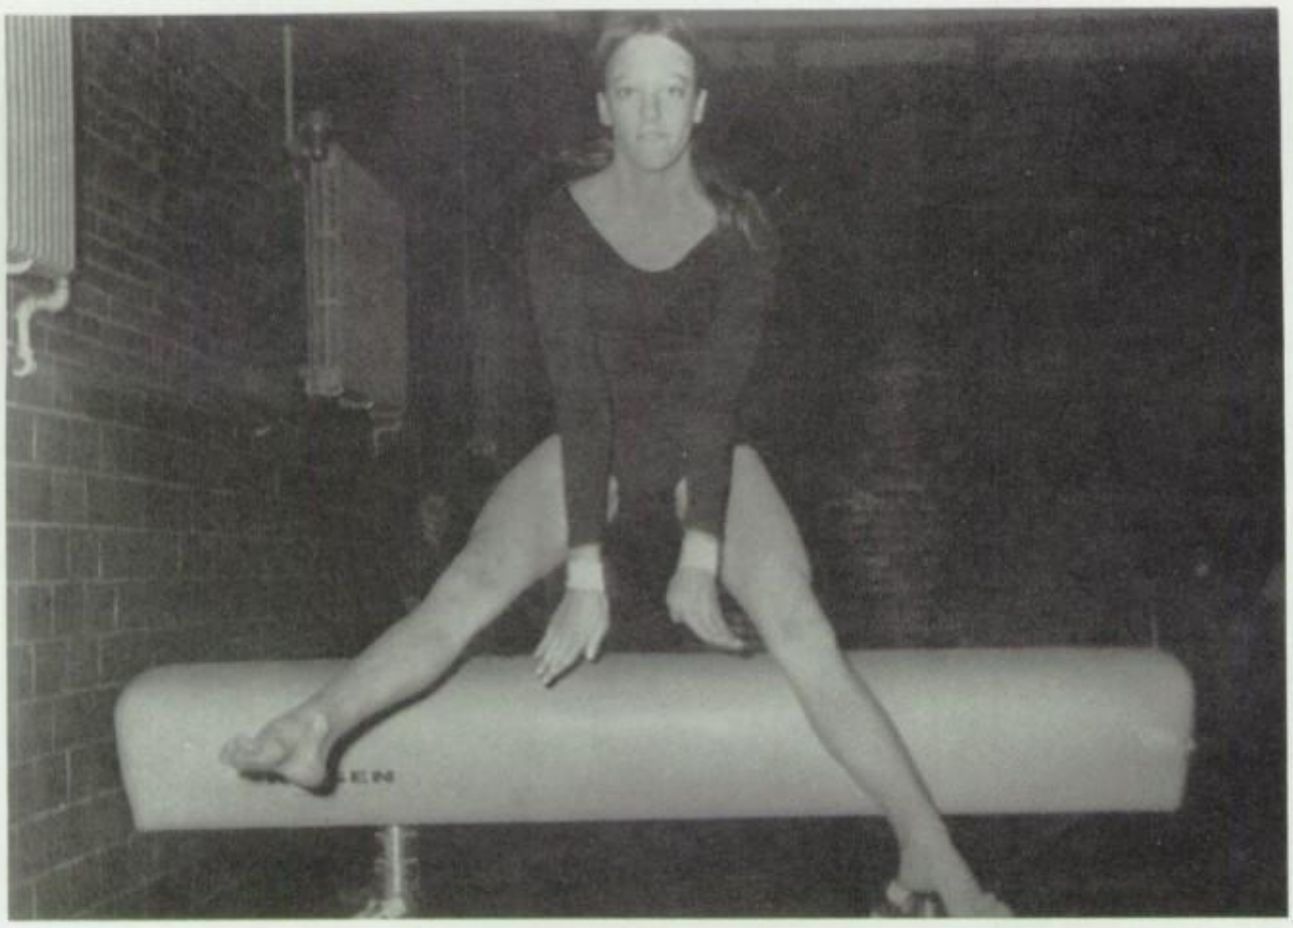
Kym Hunt (Junior) practices her routine on the uneven parallel bars. Jodi and Idarae stand by to give Kym a hand in case of a slip-up.



Sophomore Jackie Dunbar decides she'd rather pose for the camera than concentrate on what she's doing.

The 1973-1974 gymnastic team didn't win a match but did send two girls to the regionals. They were Cecile Judd for tumbling and Kym Horey on balance beam. Kym was 15 points short of going to state. This was Mrs. Carpenter's third year and the future looks bright for the young gymnasts.

Juniors Brian Sperling and Wade Liberty would rather not vault today thinking they'd rather stand around bending their poles.

Two of Rogers' finest sprinters, John Link and Stan Kerr, work hard in practice on their explosive starts. John excells in the 100, 220, and broad jump while Stan does his thing in the 220, 440, and the triple jump.

Coach Mills leads B-Squad

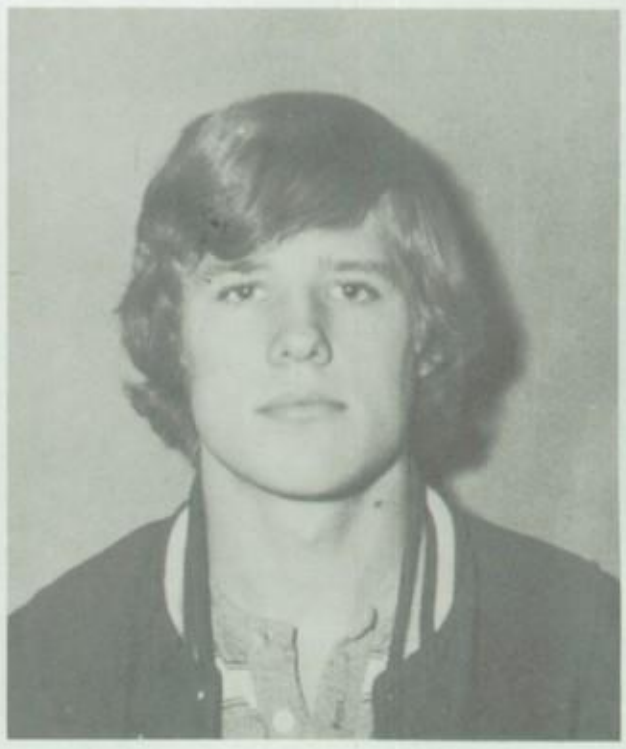
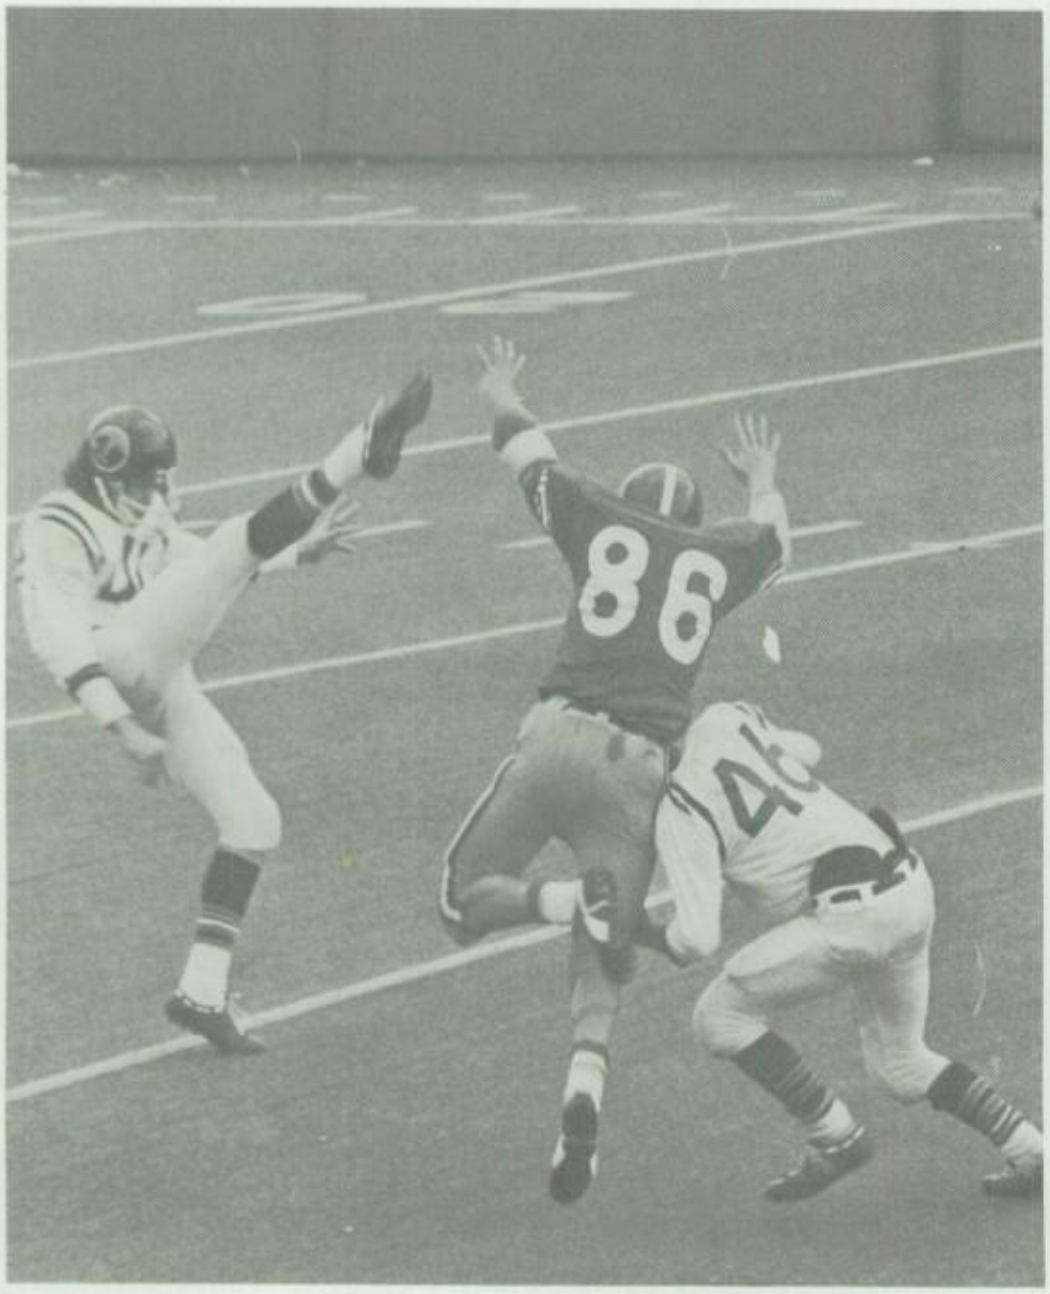
Coaches Naccarato and Mills display pre-game emotions as John Link (85) bids good luck to teammate Kipp Adams(22).

Four Rogers Pirates

All around athlete, John Bray, was the unanimous all-city center in both daily newspapers.



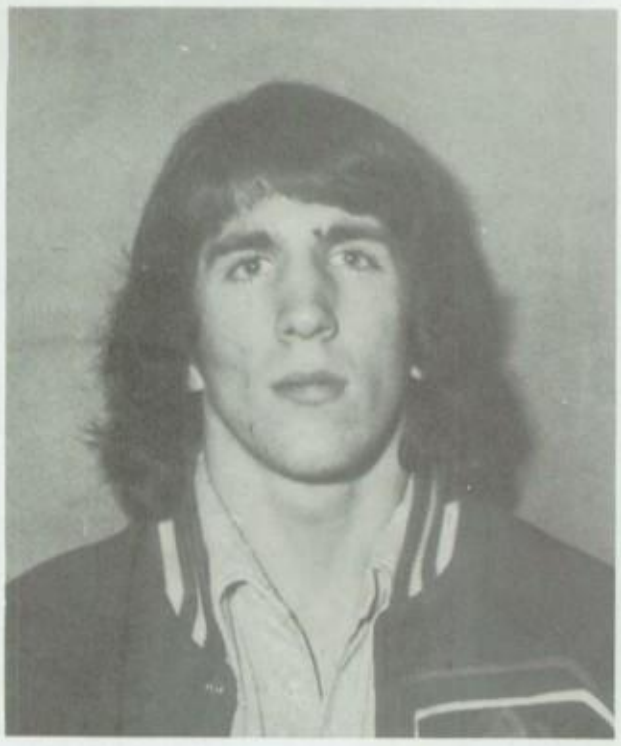
Two year letterman, Kelly Roggenbuck, received all-city as a hard-hitting defensive back.



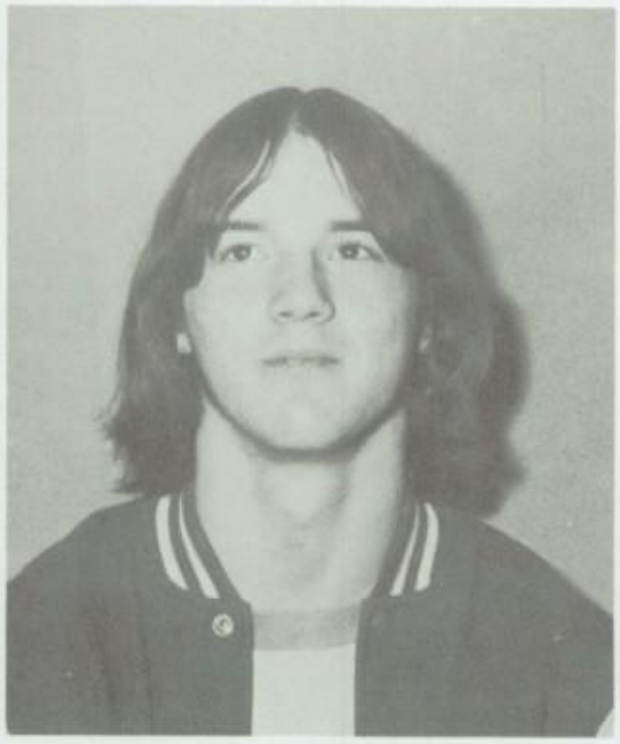
Niko Colella (86) takes off.

Nominees for the "Mr. Cool" award are a few of the Pirate defensive unit. Their hopes for receiving such an award are very slim, but things would look brighter for these players if a "Mr. Ham" award were given.

Chosen for All-City



Super attitude and athletic ability, Bruce Johnson, was picked as tight end in the Chronicle.



Sure-handed Curt Jensen was the second leading receiver in the City League.

Rogers Pirates, headed by Coach Rich Naccarato, turned in a winning season for the first time in his Pirate coaching career. Although hampered by injuries, 8 Bucs were chosen for All-City teams. With a hard hitting defense and a break-away offense the Pirate squad ended the season with 5 wins, 4 losses and no ties. Line coaches Bob Poffenroth and Gary Mills rounded out the Pirate coaching staff.

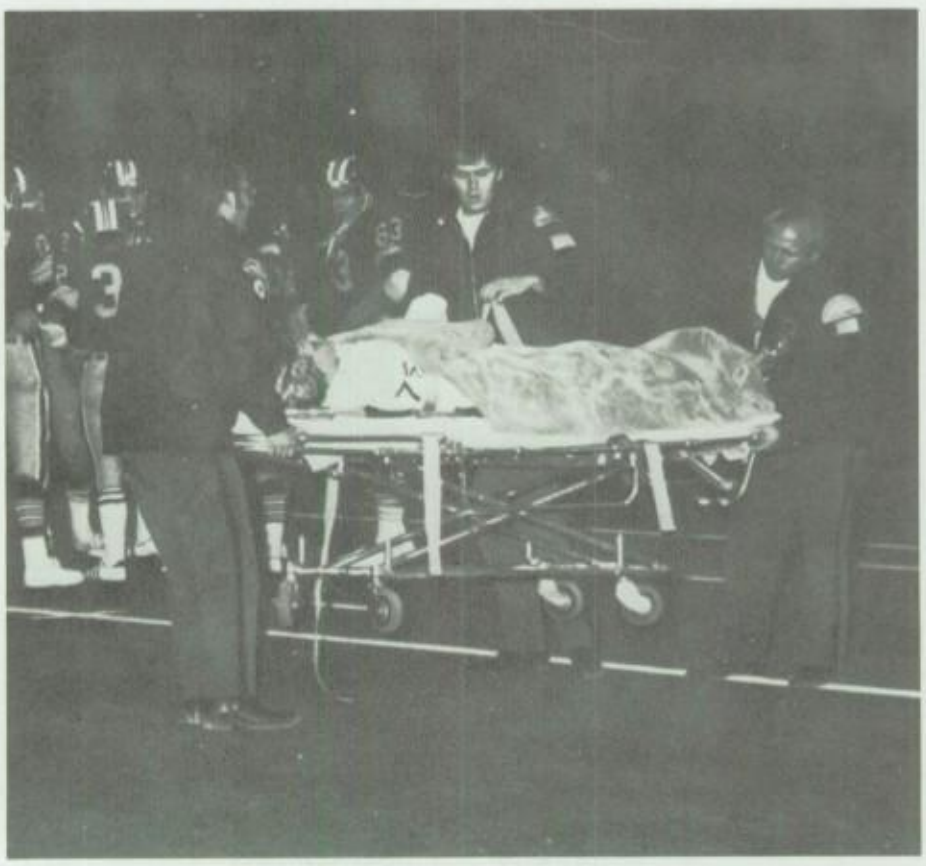
Juniors fill Spots Well

The Pirates will have ten returning lettermen on the 1974-75 football squad. The lettermen have a lot of experience on offense. They'll need a strong attack because the other city teams look to be tough. Dan Skinner, Joe Young, Bob Alderson, Daryl Jensen, Ray Crosby, Bill Nay, and Boy Colella all started at least once.



(75) Brian Sperling was injured at the stadium during the first Shadle game. He is a hard hitter and will return as a senior next year.

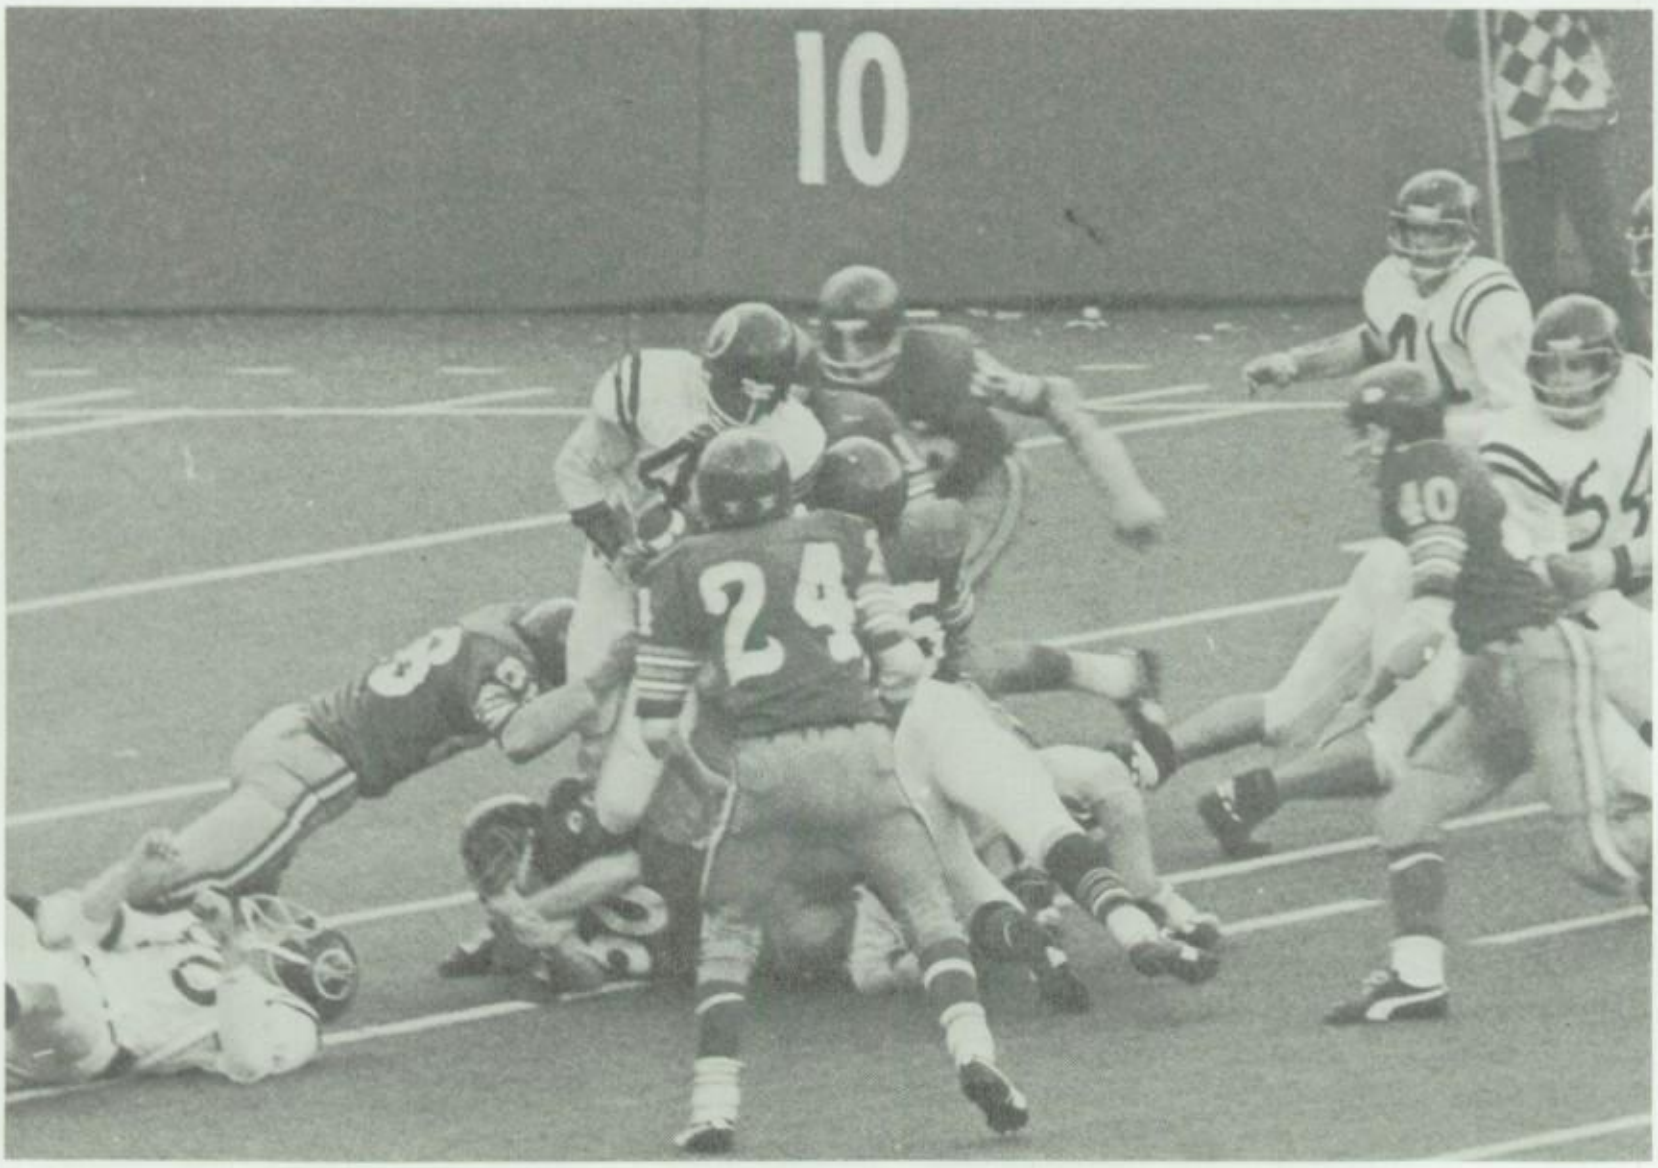
Bucs Big Defense Is Super Mean



Tenacious gang tackling by Rogers' Big "D" discouraged many city league runners. Being stuck is Dale Chapple.

Niko Colella scoops up fumble on way to record setting 65 yard run against Shadle Park. Colella discovered hidden speed as he outmanuvered Highlanders for the score.

e Young, followed by many Buc tacklers, gets into the middle of ings.

Pressure end Niko Colella (86) jars the football loose from the grasp of LC Quarterback Ross White, while other Buc defenders overwhelm Tiger offensive line. Pirate defense constantly harassed the LC backs throughout the game.

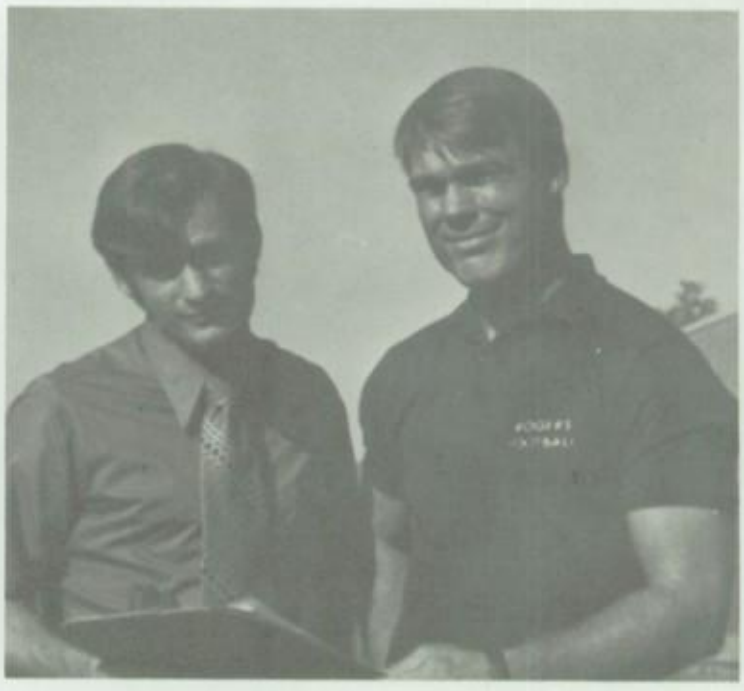
Powerhouse fullback Gene McKay explodes through many "would be" tackles in the NC game.



B-Squad coaches Dennis Schuerman and Harry Laughary confer with each other on this week's game plan.

FRUSTRATION..

Problems

Mental errors plagued the young Bucs throughout the 1973-74 season. They had a lot of potential but couldn't get it together. Gene McKay received the 110 percent award which consisted of being Captain, MVP, and most inspirational. The demoralizing season was evident in the players attitudes, but the young Bucs look forward to playing varsity next year.

Foxy B-Squad Cheerleaders!!

(79)'s thoughts: Oh, bummer! Here they come again!

See it's been nice Haveing you for a friend and a good wrestler Have a fantastic Summer See ya on the mat next year.

Hodaka.
It won't run out of guts before you do.

The Hodaka is built for one purpose. To out-last and out-perform its competition. How is this done? By seeking perfection in one basic design. We only build one bike. But we build it better than anyone else in the world.

Lee,
Keep up the distance running. If you get in your miles you'll go a long way next year. I'll look forward to seeing you in Cross Country.
Have fun this summer.
Your Friend,
David Beighley '75

Lee,
I had fun
knowing you this year & if I ever coached you without your shirt you're gonna squirt over your shoulder, look forward to next year
Randy Allie

Lee, know
I don't know
I like you so much but I do. Maybe it's because you are so nice and sweet to me (ha! ha!). anyway, besides the bad things you do to me, I think you a real great guy. well, I hope I get to see you a lot this summer and next year too.
best of luck, always.
love
Connie

LEE,

YOUR A GOOD GUY
BUT YOU'LL MAKE MR.
